

COUNCIL HINTS AT A POLICE SHAKE UP

Chairman of Committee Reports
That Members of Force are Not Showing Right Spirit

CO-OPERATION IS LACKING

Matter Will be Discussed More Fully at Special Session—New Water
Well a Fizzle

The police department of Rushville came into the limelight at the regular session of the city council Tuesday night, when a threatened shake-up was predicted, and Mayor Thomas stated that he was willing to "clean the shelf from top to bottom."

The matter of the police was brought before the council when Mayor Thomas made a few suggestions for the police committee to have the police follow, and Homer Cole, chairman of the committee, stated that the police department was not showing the right attitude or spirit, and that there was friction existing between the members.

The greatest difficulty is that the department is not organized and no system is followed, many have observed. A report is never made to the council on the activities of the police force, and officers on duty in the day time, were said by Mr. Cole as not co-operating with the night force, and in a like manner, what takes place at night is not disclosed to the day force, he said.

Mayor Thomas indicated that he believed it time to start all over again on the department, and the police question will come up for discussion at a special meeting in the near future, when it was indicated that an entire new force would be employed, and if necessary, Mr. Cole expressed the desire to go outside and employ men who would be willing to carry out the orders of the committee.

The police question has been the subject for several council discussions, but it is believed that no solution of the problem can be found until an officer can be placed on desk duty with full power to direct the members of the department.

The preliminary assessment roles for Morgan and Fifth streets, which were paved during the summer, were presented to the council, and the lists will be advertised. Anyone wishing to remonstrate against their assessments will have the opportunity on December 2.

An opinion of U. S. Lesh, attorney general, was read in which he had been asked concerning the franchise with the I. & C. traction company. The question brought up was whether the traction company could be forced to pay for a portion of the street paving on Morgan street, and the opinion of the attorney general was the same as that expressed by Mr. Kiplinger, city attorney in that

SEDAN IS CROWDED OFF ROAD BY TRUCK

Mr. and Mrs. Wash Allen and Mrs.
Kennard Allen Uninjured in Accident West of New Palestine

MACHINE IS BADLY DAMAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Wash Allen and Mrs. Kennard Allen escaped with slight bruises when their automobile was crowded off the state road just west of New Palestine Tuesday evening about 4:30 o'clock.

The automobile went over a steep embankment and two wheels and the front axle of the machine were broken. The occupants were considerably shaken up, but those who saw the position in which the automobile rested marveled at the fact that they were not seriously hurt. Mrs. Kennard Allen was driving.

The road is very narrow at the point where the Rushville machine met a large truck and there is a steep embankment on either side.

The Rushville people were returning from Indianapolis and the truck was going west.

The damaged automobile, an Oakland sedan, was pulled out of the ditch by a New Palestine garageman and today was brought to Rushville for repairs.

Commencing at 7 O'clock

NO SCHOOL THIS AFTERNOON

Regular Class Work Will be Carried
Out Tonight as Part of Education
Week Program

Evening session of the Rushville public schools will be held this evening, beginning at 7:30. The senior high school, the junior high school and all of the grade schools, including the kindergarten, will be in session.

The classes will be conducted as regularly scheduled on some portion of the daily program. An effort will be made to demonstrate the work of the school as it progresses each day under normal school room conditions.

The purpose of the evening session to give all parents a chance to visit the schools, to meet the teachers and to see the character of the work that their children are doing.

Careful arrangements have been made for the reception and accommodation of the visitors. Children have been appointed as ushers to pass out the schedules of classes and to conduct the guests to the particular classes that they may wish to visit.

"Night sessions have been held in many cities with marked success," said H. B. Allman, superintendent of schools today. "The responses have been enthusiastic and the effect upon the school beneficial. Not only is it of value to the parent to visit the school and become familiar with its work, but the students and teachers are helped by the contact with the public. You owe it to your child to visit the school and manifest a vital concern in the progress he is making."

The buildings will be open at 6:45 and the sessions will begin promptly at 7:30.

The observance of the week was carried to several of the school communities today in the county, with Dean Walker of the Rushville high school faculty speaking at Raleigh this afternoon and Grant Cooper of New Salem at Neff's Corner. Tonight A. L. Gary will speak at the Jackson township school, B. D. Farthing at Gings and Dr. Ramsey at Manilla.

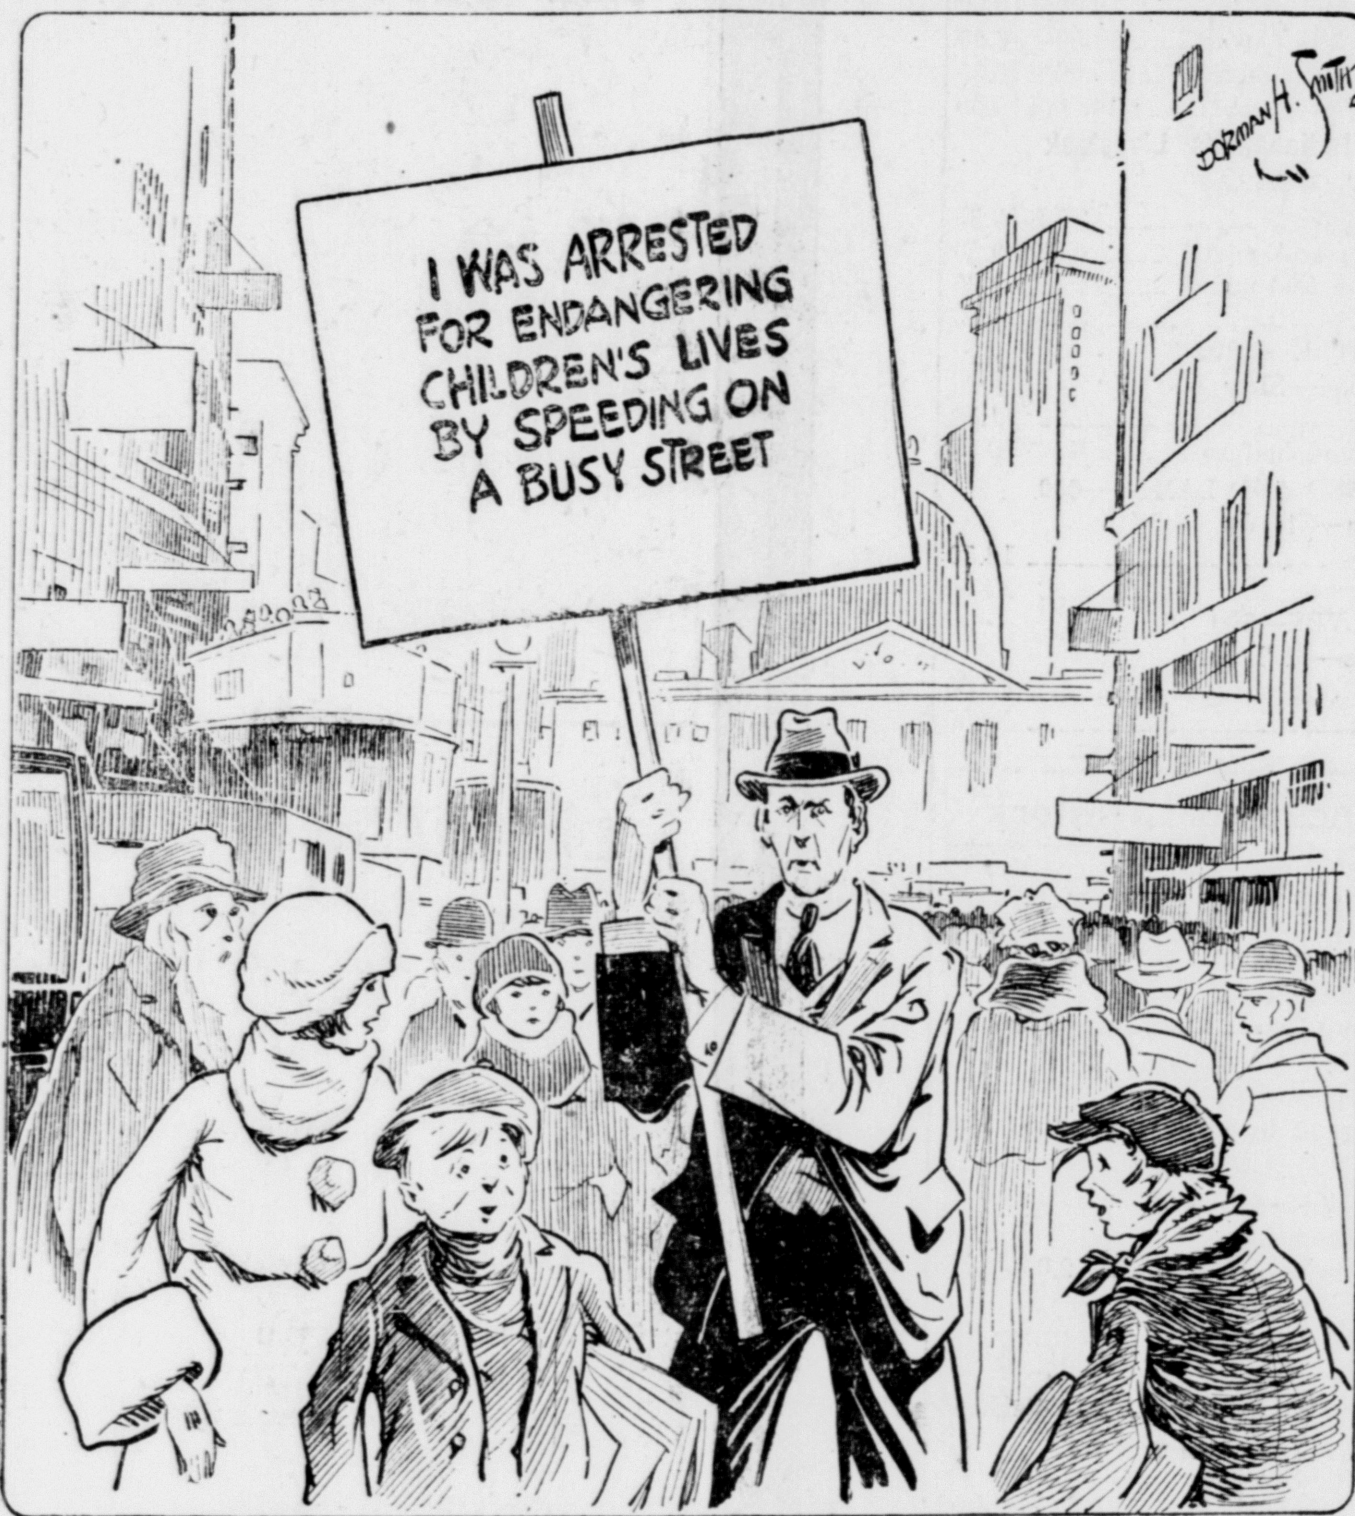

On Thursday night, Judge Sparks will speak at Arlington, Prof. Noble Sherwood, state superintendent-elect, will speak at Carthage, and in the afternoon at Milroy. The Rev. Charles Brown of Laurel will be the speaker at the Richland school at night, and H. B. Allman of this city will be the Glenwood speaker at night. The Rev. James Wilson of Mays will speak at Mays Thursday night.

The program for the rural schools will end Friday afternoon, with Normal Patterson speaking at the Gahmire school, Prof. L. A. Lockwood at the colored school in Carthage and B. D. Farthing at the Freeman school.

Tuesday night John A. Titworth of this city spoke at the Little Flat-rock church on "Patriotism of Peace," as Tuesday was Patriotic day of the education week program. At the meeting there was also a demonstration of music work in charge of Miss Piersol, and given by the pupils of the Applegate and New Salem schools. The church auditorium was filled.

WHY NOT SENTENCE SPEEDERS TO PUBLIC HUMILIATION?

"STOP" SIGNS TO BE PAINTED ON STREETS

Mayor Thomas Announces Steps will be Taken to Protect Motorists at Busy Corners

STOP-GO SIGN CONSIDERED

Rushville motorists today were warned by Mayor Walter Thomas to keep their eyes open. Several "stop" signs are to be painted either late today or Thursday on some of the streets, giving the main travelled streets the right-of-way.

The stop signs have been ordered at Morgan and Third streets, with the stop signs to be painted on Morgan street, giving the east and west traffic the right-of-way. Similar signs will be painted on the streets at Fifth, upon entering Main, and also at Eleventh street, upon entering Main. It will be necessary for all machines to come to a dead stop before entering upon, or crossing the streets that are given the right-of-way.

An automatic "go" and "stop" sign policeman is under consideration for Main and Second streets, to replace the upper portion of the traffic post now in use.

Other "stop" signs will be placed on streets as soon as the needs arise and persons violating the stop signs will be arraigned before the mayor for traffic violations, according to police instructions.

Judge Will Sparks of this city and E. B. Thomas of San Juan, Porto Rico, who is visiting among home folks here, were among the principal speakers, and each made fine talks. Among the entertainers were Loyd Nelson, Harlan Overleese and Ned Jackson, singers, and several other Milroy members were on the program during the evening. Glen E. Foster of this city, also was present as a guest.

LOCAL MAN TO AID IN STATE SURVEY

John H. Kiplinger One of Committee of Three Selected by Governor-
Elect Jackson

THRIFT, EFFICIENCY AIMS

To Make Investigation of Boards and Commissions, With View of Reducing Their Number

John H. Kiplinger of this city has been appointed a member of the committee of three, selected by Governor-elect Ed Jackson, to make a survey of state boards and commissions, with a view to submitting recommendations for reduction of the number of departments in the state house.

Other members of the committee are Arthur R. Baxter of Indianapolis, manufacturer and former state senator, and Lawrence Cartwright of Portland, vice-chairman of the regular state committee.

Mr. Kiplinger was called to Indianapolis Tuesday by the governor-elect for a conference regarding the appointment, and he accepted the post at that time.

Mr. Kiplinger, it is announced, will act as legal advisor of the committee. He has been engaged in the practice of law in Rushville for a number of years. In 1917 he organized a company of state militia and was its captain, and following the war, he served with the inter-allied commission supervising the return of war loot from Germany, and wrote some of the protocols carrying out the terms of the Versailles treaty. Mr. Kiplinger also was legal advisor of the finance committee of the reparations commission.

The governor-elect announced, according to Indianapolis dispatches today, that the committee will be assisted by Pliny Wolfard, who has been named secretary to the Governor-elect; Frederick E. Schortemeier, secretary to Governor Branch and secretary of state-elect, and Charles Kettleborough, director of the legislative reference bureau.

The committee will meet Friday afternoon to organize, Mr. Jackson said. The work of investigating the state boards and commissions will be pushed as rapidly as possible in order that a thorough report may be submitted to Mr. Jackson.

Mr. Baxter, who served two terms as state senator from Marion county, is well acquainted with the work of the various departments on account of his service as chairman of the Senate finance committee. He is

HOME SERVICE FUND IS RAISED TO $965.44

This Sum Raised in Salvation Army
Campaign Recently Conducted —
Detailed Report Impossible

BETTER THAN LAST FEW YEARS

The Salvation Army Home Service campaign conducted recently in Rushville yielded $965.44 according to a report today from Robert A. Innis, the campaign chairman.

A detailed report, showing where the money was raised, could not be made by Mr. Innis, who was confined to his home by illness at the close of the campaign. Deposits were made to the Home Service fund at the American National bank, with no record being made of who the solicitor was.

The campaign was the most thorough and the most successful of any that have been conducted in the interest of the Salvation Army here since 1919, when the Home Service fund was first established as a means of supporting the Army corps, instead of compelling the officers to depend upon free-will offerings.

The campaign was for the sum of approximately $2,000, to cover a period of eighteen months ending in October 1925, and the fact that practically half of the amount was raised means that the Army will be in a better position to give service to the community than it has had in the past few years.

GUARANTORS MEET NOV. 20

Will Elect Three Directors of Rush
County Chautauqua

The guarantors of the Rush County Chautauqua association will hold a meeting in the director's room of the Farmers Trust Company Thursday evening, Nov. 20, at 7:30 o'clock. All the guarantors are urged to be present as three directors will be elected at this time.

This meeting is preliminary to the election of officers for the 1925 chautauqua. A meeting of the board of directors will be called for that purpose later, following the one on Thursday night of this week.

FOR ATTACHMENT

J. C. Ellman and Son filed suit in Justice Stech's court on an account and for attachment against Lowell Smalley, and the case was dismissed today, when the defendant paid the demand of $15 and costs in the case.

VICTIMS ARE RECOVERING

Mrs. Fred Danielson Will be in Hospital for Ten Days

Victims of the automobile accident three miles west of Rushville Tuesday were reported to be on the road to recovery today, although Mrs. Fred A. Danielson, who was most seriously injured, will be compelled to remain at the Sexton hospital for ten days. She sustained a broken leg and slight but extensive burns.

Mr. Danielson, her husband, was much improved today. He suffered a superficial scalp wound, slight burns and an injury to his chest. Their son Earl, and Ray Devire, the driver of the car, which turned up and burned up, were not hurt aside from a few minor bruises. The party was enroute from Chicago to Miami, Florida.

CONFERENCE SEEN AS A PROBABILITY

Second Arm Confab Regarded as possibility Due to British Attitude Toward League

NEW GOVERNMENT ACTION

Asks Definite Postponement of Discussion of League Conference and Protocol

By LUDWELL DENNY
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Nov. 19.—The second Washington arms conference proposed by President Coolidge has become a definite and early probability as result of the lack of sympathy with the League of Nations arms conference exhibited by the new conservative government of Great Britain, it was believed in authoritative quarters today.

The move of the British government to postpone indefinitely the discussion of the League Conference and the League protocol was accepted as a long step toward clearing the way for a second conference here.

It also was regarded as another step toward a more closely knit Anglo-American entente which would rival the League in assuming the moral leadership of international affairs.

By LLOYD ALLEN
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

London, Nov. 19.—"The Geneva protocol is scrapped," the Daily Telegraph declared today, following announcement that the British government has asked the League of Nations to "postpone" discussion of the security and disarmament protocol adopted recently by the League assembly.

What the Baldwin government actually requested was that the council, when it meets at Rome December 8, leave the proposed pact off its agenda. The Daily Telegraph interprets this as an indication that the conservative administration will repudiate the protocol signed by Ramsey MacDonald.

The Daily Telegraph points out that if the Geneva protocol is scrapped the way is opened for American leadership in a new move for world disarmament. None of the other morning papers commented on the unexpected request which was conveyed to Sir Eric Drummond, secretary general of the League.

Dissatisfaction on the part of the dominions with provisions of the protocol prescribed use of the British fleet as a cure-all for international ills is believed one of the chief reasons for the government's request.

Corn Prices Set New Mark For Year in Wild Trading

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 19.—In one of the wildest markets this year corn prices soared to the highest level on the present crop during today's trading on the Chicago Board of Trade.

May and July corn sold over $1.25 a bushel at the peak, but those record prices resulted in heavy profit taking and prices slumped back slightly. Wheat and oats which advanced in line with corn suffered a set back and lost from opening levels.

OPERATED AMONG WIDOWS, OLD MEN

Hawkins Mortgage Company Used
Special Inducements to Get This Class, Substance of Testimony

TREASURER ON THE STAND

Developed in Cross Examination
That Company Appealed to Farmers Also—Circular Read

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 19.—That the Hawkins Mortgage Company, which is alleged to have swindled thousands of victims, operated chiefly among farmers, widows and old men, was the substance of testimony of Carl B. Anderson, treasurer of the Hawkins Company under cross examination in federal court today during trial of the mail fraud conspiracy case.

Anderson identified literature mailed by the Hawkins Company urging widows and old men to buy all the stock they could.

Homer Elliott, United States district attorney, read a paragraph from the circular: "We make a specialty to induce widows with small capital to invest and men well long in years that have the capital to purchase all the stock they could stand for we absolutely know there is no hazard connected with the investment and they will be sure of the income the rest of their lives and will leave valuable stock to their heirs."

Anderson testified that records of the director's meetings, which stated he was director of the Cooperative League of America at one time. He admitted he knew letters urging exchange of cooperative league stock for Hawkins Mortgage Company stock, were being mailed out.

During Anderson's testimony it was found that A. R. Sax, a defendant stock salesman, was not in the court room.

Judge Geiger ordered that he be brought in. Anderson was excused from the stand for about three minutes while Henry W. Kiel, mayor of St. Louis, testified that William Sax of St. Louis, millionaire, had born a good reputation. He gave similar testimony concerning Macey Wilson, chairman of the board of International Life Insurance Company of St. Louis, another defendant.

Destruction of the picture of injured innocence painted by two leading defendants in the mail fraud case caused other defendants to abandon their intentions today of showing how Morton S. Hawkins was the alleged arch conspirator and they were the "goats."

Anthony A. Scheib of Portland, Ind., vice-president, secretary and director of the Hawkins Mortgage Company, and Carl B. Anderson, of Portland, vice-president, treasurer and director of the company both insisted they were innocent of the

TRIAL SCHEDULED FOR THURSDAY POSTPONED

Jury will Not Be Used Until Friday
When Rainey and Bennett Will be Tried

ON GRAND LARCENY CHARGE

The jury which was originally notified to report for service Thursday in the circuit court, for the first time in the new court term that convened Monday, will not be used until the case that was set for Thursday was postponed.

The case Friday is another state case against Harry Rainey and Willie Bennett, charged with conspiracy and grand larceny, of which they have entered pleas of not guilty, and have been released on bond, awaiting the trial.

The case that was set for Thursday was an assault and battery case filed against Everett Swain of Milroy by Tone Tompkins, also of Milroy, in which the action was appealed from Justice Stech's court, where the defendant was found guilty and fined. The case will be heard later in this term of court. In the place of this case for Thursday, there has been set a civil action, which will be heard by the court, and without the jury.

a postman walk?What kind of shoe does the postman wear, that will stand the all-day, every-day grind of walking many weary miles? Here it is. It is just a good-looking shoe, but it is built extra-heavy with feather-bed comfort, as only Walk-Over knows how, for any man whose duties require him to walk.
It will outwalk any other shoe made at the price.

FARM HOME DAMAGED

The farm residence owned and occupied by L. B. Osborne, 2½ miles west of Rushville, caught fire this morning about ten o'clock from sparks near a flue, and persons residing in a machine noticed the blaze. A call was sent here, and the chemical truck from the fire station was sent, but the timely discovery of the blaze permitted it to be extinguished with a few buckets of water, and the loss was placed at about $10, which was covered by insurance.

Yet Wylie, who with his brother Willis (right) has pleaded guilty to participating in the robbery, is being held as a material witness against four others soon to be brought to trial. He is unconscious half the time.

Let us Give Thanks:—Blessing, and glory, and wisdom, and thanksgiving, and honor, and power, and might, be unto our God for ever and ever. Revelation 7:12.

Prayer:—All praise, O Lord, to Thee, we give for all the blessings of this life.

Home Interests First

Another Christmas is near at hand and gift lists are being prepared for the shopping tour that everyone will make.

And when you buy, will you remember the claims of the home merchant and give him a chance to share in your trade?

We can not expect to prosper as a community by dividing our patronage with business men who contribute nothing to the upbuilding of our local institutions.

It is to the best interest of those who buy, to trade at home, just as it is to the best interest of those who sell.

Unless we "pat each other on the back" nothing constructive can ever be accomplished and Rushville will go backward instead of forward.

The logic of trading at home is unassailable. There is no other way of reasoning—if you spend your money away from home, you have no hope of ever jingling it in your pocket again, but if you keep your money in circulation at home, you may get the chance to use it again.

Rushville merchants prepare for Christmas with large and extensive stocks and endeavor to serve the people of this trading area as best they can. They should be patronized, not alone from the standpoint of home patriotism, but because they have Christmas merchandise of quality that no one will be ashamed to give.

An Outstanding Service

The case is reported in the press of a letter, written by a soldier during the Civil War, which was delivered a few days ago to a relative of the one to whom it was addressed.

Such instances are unusual. The postoffice department functions with great precision and provides splendid service for the people.

The circumstance which was given widespread publicity, because it was rare, might be contrasted with the thousands and thousands of cases where mail is delivered promptly.

The postoffice department is in receipt of frequent letters commending the mail service, but none quite equals the record which a Utah woman reports.

For ten years she has been maintaining a weekly correspondence with her sister in England, and up to August 1 of this year, each woman had written 520 letters to each other, not one of which had been lost.

This record reveals a state of perfection that is seldom reached and though it is uncommon, it indicates that the postal service is a very efficient branch of the government.

During the holiday season it is put to the supreme test and every one who can do anything to relieve the burden will be performing a worthwhile service. Mailing gifts early is one way in which every person can help.

Poor Thrift

The U. S. Treasury reports more than eighteen and a half millions of outstanding national debt that has matured and the interest on which has ceased. All but about one million of that total has matured since April 1, 1917. Most of the sum is represented by World War obligations of various kinds, principally Victory Notes.

By leaving that enormous amount of capital tied up in idle investment, its owners are losing a million dollars a year of interest that they might obtain if they redeemed their government securities and put their money into active enterprises. It is a poor conception of thrift that permits financial management of that sort.

Clell Maple, county recorder, was elected treasurer of the Indiana County Recorders Association which met in the Claypool hotel in Indianapolis Wednesday. This comes as a very high honor as there were only four officers out of the whole number of recorders chosen.

Will the Rush county treasurer continue to collect the city taxes or will he not? That's what the finance committee of the city council and the county authorities tried to settle last night. But they didn't. Instead the thing is just about as far from settlement as it ever was.

Mrs. W. S. Saxon entertained to dinner Wednesday the Ladies Sorority club. The following ladies were present: Mrs. W. E. Ochiltree, Mrs. Will Masters, and Mrs. Stockton of Connersville, Mrs. Dr. Elliott, Mrs. Dr. Paxton and Miss Florence Elliott of Glenwood, Mrs. Grant Hinchman and Mrs. James Ochiltree of this neighborhood. A talk was given by Mrs. Stockton on her trip to Seattle, which was highly appreciated by the ladies. (In and Around Fairview correspondent).

George C. Wyatt was a music teacher once upon a time and later became an undertaker, and entered into the furniture business.

Dr. W. S. Coleman spent yesterday evening in Oxford, Ohio, with his sister, Miss Effie Coleman, who is an instructor in English in Miami University. He returned this morning.

Mrs. Ruby Petry and Mrs. Will S. Meredith spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. Sylvia Hodge south of Homer.

The Ladies Aid Society of St. Paul's M. E. church will give a reception tonight for the new pastor, the Rev. J. W. Turner and family.

HUNT'S DAILY LETTER

BY HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—Chicago's right to the title of "The Windy City" may have a new explanation when the new Congress is organized. If Martin B. Madden the white-haired legislator from the Illinois metropolis wins his fight for the speakership of the House which is to be vacated by the promotion of Fred erick Gillett to the Senate.

With Charles Dawes presiding over the deliberations of the Senate and Madden awaiting the gavel on the House side, Chicago certainly would be sitting astride Congress.

THERE will have to be a deal of maneuvering however before this is accomplished. Al ready Madden is assured of two rivals for the seat at the head of the House.

Nick Longworth of Cincinnati as told as Madden is gray would like to succeed Gillett. Like Madden, Nick has served 20 years in the House and would like to be promoted.

As floor leader of the Republican near majority in the present Congress Nick has proved himself a clever tactician in legislative maneuvering. And that is one of the essential qualifications for a speaker.

As an initiator of new legislation and as an advocate of measures on the floor of the House, Madden has been much more active and influential than Long worth.

Nick isn't an orator and knows it. His most effective speeches are made in cloak rooms and in quiet conferences.

Not so long ago the Madden Longworth forces began to line up, however, than the veteran legislator from Cuyahoga county Ohio, Theodore E. Burton, intimated that he was being sought by many members to shy his hat into the speakership ring and make it a three-sided fight. In addition to having served in the House as long as either Madden or Longworth Burton has behind him a record of six years in the Senate.

There is a suggestion that the 73 year old bachelor from Cleveland has the sanction of President Coolidge in his announced aspiration to the speakership, though of course the executive will use no direct pressure in trying to get at the helm in the House a man of his choice.

That Burton was the Coolidge choice for keynote speaker at the Cleveland convention last June, however is regarded as indicating the way the presidential favor lies.

BEHIND the scenes in this speakership fight, however, a woman may play the deciding role.

The political ability and influence of Mrs. Longworth—formerly Alice Roosevelt—brought to bear in behalf of her husband may prove the deciding factor.

"Princess Alice" as she is still known to her intimates, is credited with having one of the cleverest political minds the capital ever known, and with knowing just how to "put across" the campaigns in which she is interested.

If she aspires to be "Mrs. Speaker" and to see Nick's bald dome shining above the dais of the speakers' platform her friends are willing to wager that she will be it and Nick will be there.

THESE same folks, however, question whether Mrs. Longworth is especially anxious for hubby to win the speakership.

The wife of the speaker is at ways expected to follow a certain rather cut and dried social schedule. And "Princess Alice" who has always been something of a social "rebel" might not care to conform to what precedent has established as the proper thing for the speaker's wife to do.

This social independence, which may be passed unnoticed in the wife of a mere member of the House, might, however, create a real ruction in Washington drawing rooms if held by the wife of the speaker.

Little Known of Strength of Team,
Except That They Lost to Carthage Last Friday

BAND OF ROOTERS TO BE HERE

The Rushville high school basketball team will meet their old time rivals here Friday night, when the fast team from the Spiceland high school will come here for a game.

In the past few years these two teams have always had lively times, and Spiceland usually has a team that makes any of them step. Little is known of them this year, excepting last Friday when Carthage played them, and won by a lone point, having to force themselves in a rally in the last few minutes to overcome a big lead. Carthage also is ranked as a strong team this year, and a contender for county honors.

The Spiceland players will be accompanied by a large crowd, as they always have brought many rooters with them.

The Rushville second team will play the preliminary contest, starting at 7:30 o'clock, and their opponents will be the Orange high school.

ALONG THE SIDELINES

Chicago—Five University of Chicago regulars expect to end their college playing career Saturday by winning a western conference football championship. They are Gowdy, Thomas, Pondelik, Barnes and Bar-to.

Evanston—Northwestern's first team smashed up Notre Dame plays used by the freshmen in a strenuous scrimmage. Coach Thistlewaite hopes to have his team keyed up to give the Irish a hard battle.

Urbana—Working hard to stage a comeback, the Illini worked earnestly and long last night. Zupke will use his old lineup, in the main against Ohio Saturday. Big changes will be Britton at guard and Green at Grange's half.

Madison—Wisconsin worked out on a sloppy field but indulged in strenuous drill. The slogan is "stop McCarty" and Coach Ryan is bolstering the line for this purpose. Harris and Nelson will be the tack-les.

Columbus—Scrimmage was light and short for the Buckeyes yesterday because of the weather. Warmer weather today, however, assured hard scrimmage in preparation for Illinois.

Bloomington—Indiana worked out for the edification of the students today. All other practices of the week in preparation for the Purdue battle are secret. New plays to be used against the Boilemakers were rehearsed.

South Bend—Bumps and bruises suffered in the Nebraska game necessitated a practice recess last night for Notre Dame. Reserves went through a light workout indoors while the regulars were recuperating.

Ann Arbor—Passing drill was emphasized in Wolverine drill yesterday, in dictating that Michigan plans to gain on Iowa whether it can pierce the Hawkeye forward wall or not. Friedman and Rockwell are the hur-lers.

Minneapolis—With Lidberg missing, the Gophers started strenuous drill last night for Vanderbilt. Len Frank gave out instructions on how the team should play to beat the deceiving backfield formations of the invaders.

Lafayette—Secret drill for the first time during the season was held by Coach Phelan for the Boilemakers last night. Special formations which will be used against Indiana were practiced.

Iowa City—Coach Ingwersen centered his efforts in speeding up the lagard Iowa interference during a long scrimmage last night. It was probably the last scrimmage of the season and lasted until dark. A new attack is being perfected for Michi-gan.

Cambridge—Harvard was cheered by announcement that Gamache, star end on the varsity, would be able to start against Yale next Saturday. The regulars were given another day of rest and probably will get their first practice of the week today.

New Haven—Coach Tad Jones stuck to his plan of no scrimmage for the varsity before the Harvard game and sent the regulars through a signal drill with a short session at dummy football.

Annapolis—The varsity went through a long scrimmage with squad B, devoting most of its time to prac-tices, lending weight to the belief ticing forward pass formations and the Navy will count heavily on their aerial attack against the Army Nov-ember 29.

The Ladies of the St. Paul's M. E. church will give a bazaar and lunch in the basement of the church, De-cember 5.

the franchise held the traction com-pany not liable for any assessment.

The new water well drilled on the King farm southeast of Rushville, is not measuring up to the expecta-tions. The fine new electric pump works perfectly, but the water sup-ply in the well has diminished since it was first tested, and something will have to be done in order to in-crease the water supply for the city.

The break in the water main near the Baptist church under the new Morgan street paving, can not be lo-cated, according to A. T. Mahin, superintendent. The leak detector, a sensitive instrument used to locate water leaks under paving, fails to show an impulse of a leak and sev-eral attempts to find the break have failed. The water is seeping up in different spots near the church, and it was not believed good policy to tear up the street until the exact location of the break can be deter-mined.

An ordinance placing a high li-cense fee on peddlars, medicine shows and street sellers, with the purpose of preventing them from coming here, will be drafted and presented at the next meeting.

The fire committee was ordered to purchase a quantity of new fire hose which is usually bought in 400 foot quantities twice a year. The commit-tee also was ordered to purchase new bed linen for the firemen's headquarters. The matter of repair-ing the swinging doors at the fire station, making them winter proof, was taken up, and an estimate of the cost will be made, and further action will be taken on the matter.

The petition of several property owners and residents living near the stock pens of the C. I. & W. railroad asking for a clean-up at the pens, was presented at the last council meeting and the petition was ordered sent to the railroad so they could take some kind of action.

The city treasurer, Earl Conway, also reported that the city received its fall installment of taxes on Monday from Phil Wilk, county au-ditor, and the amount was nearly $30,000, from which all outstanding debts were paid by the city last night.

An adjourned session to discuss the police, Hodges Branch improve-ment, water wells and other matters will be held in a few days, to com-plete the unfinished business of last night.

Mr. Cartwright is vice chairman of the Republican state committee and party chairman of the Eighth district. He has been active in the work of the state committee for sev-eral years. He has displayed much interest in public affairs.

Mr. Jackson said that Dr. Carle-ton McCulloch, defeated Democratic candidate for Governor, was unable to serve on the committee. Mr. Jackson offered Dr. McCulloch a place on the committee some time ago. Dr. McCulloch informed Mr. Jackson that all the time he can de-vote to public affairs is being given to the Riley hospital. Dr. McCulloch, however, offered to assist the com-mittee in any way in his power.

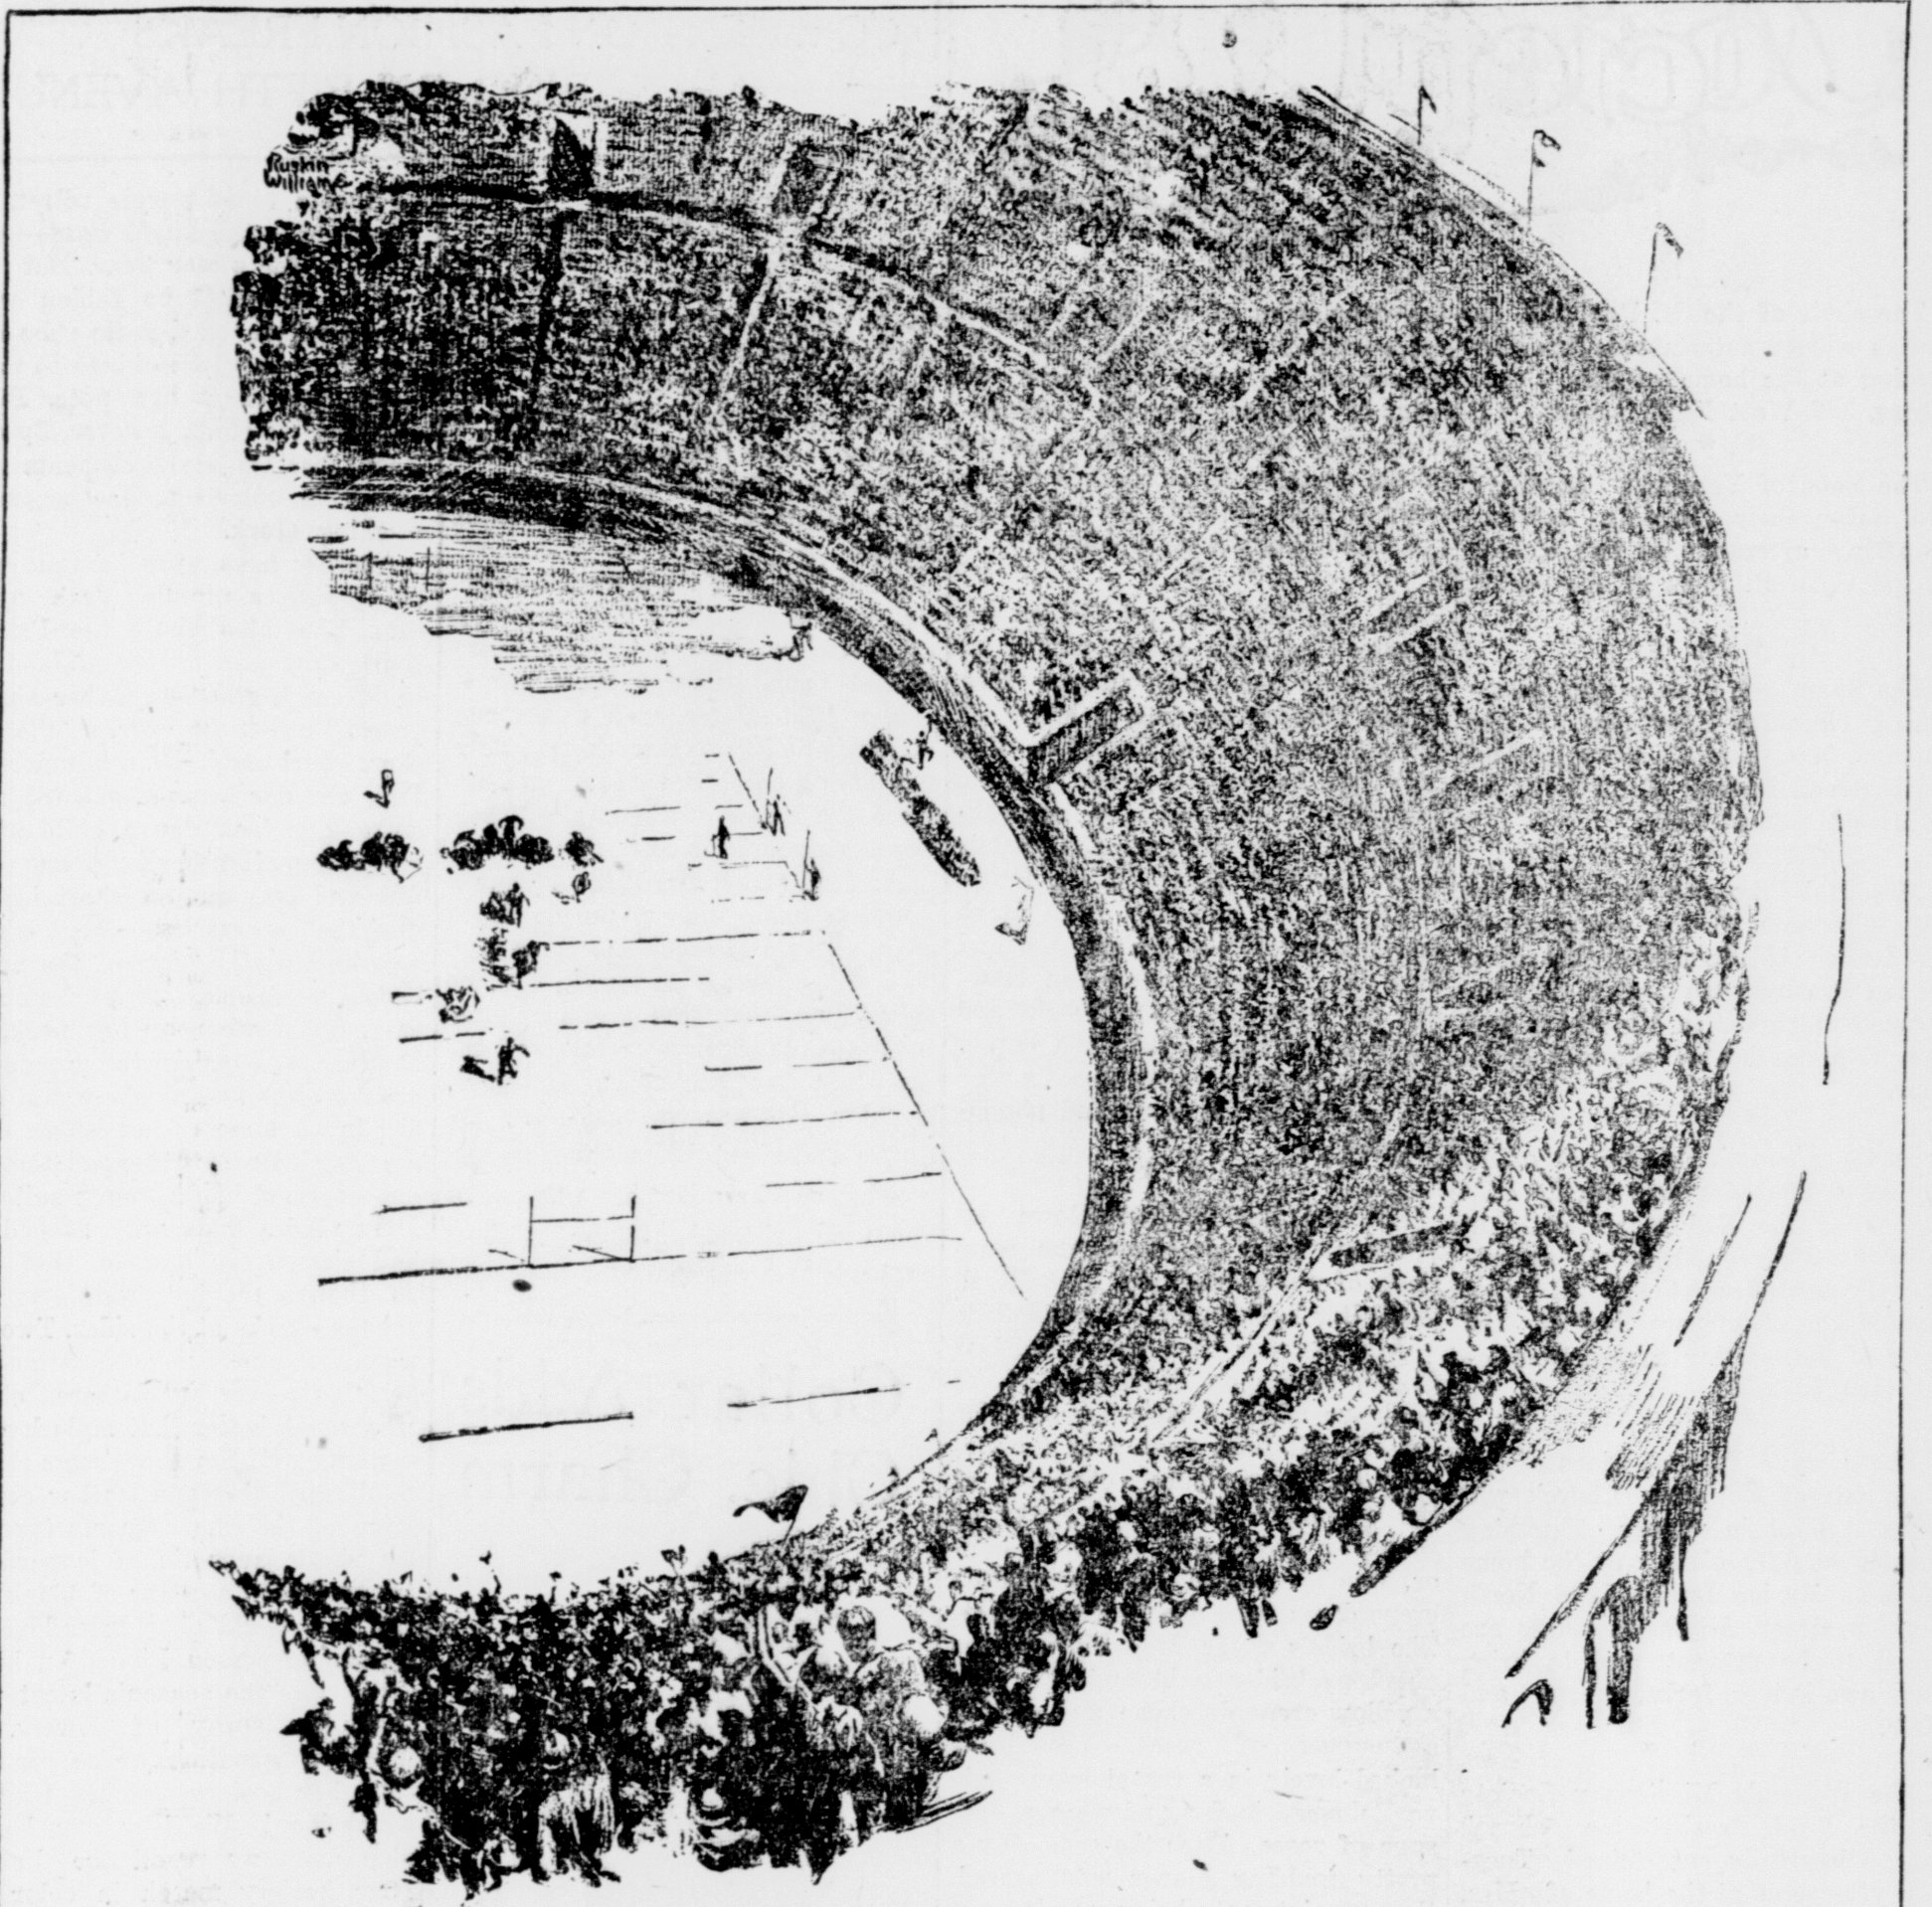

In appointing the committee, Mr. Jackson is taking the first step to-ward carrying out his campaign pledge to abolish useless state boards and commissions and to consolidate any departments which may be united without impairing the efficiency of the state government. The committee will submit a report to Mr. Jackson which probably will form the basis of some of the re-commendations of the Governor-elect in his message to the approach-ing session of the General Assembly.

Mr. Jackson said the committee will welcome suggestions from any citizen interested in the work of the state government. The investigation is to be conducted along the most sweeping lines in order that every possible angle of reducing state ex-penditures by eliminating useless de-partments may be considered.

In the services of the officials named to act in an advisory capac-ity the committee will have the ben-efit of assistance of men who have had much experience in state affairs. Mr. Wolfard has been deputy secre-tary of state for a number of years. Mr. Schortemeier is familiar with the operation of the state government on account of his service as secre-tary to the Governor. Mr. Kettle-borough has drafted much of the legislation which has been approved by the General Assembly in recent years.

Basketball in Public Favor

By HENRY L. FARRELL

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, Nov. 19—With foot-ball to be buried soon for the 1924 season, the indoor winter sport season will swing in for the public en-tertainment until the baseball clubs drift southward in the spring.

Basketball, boxing and hockey are the ranking winter sports now in the order named. Several years ago boxing would have held the ma-jor place in the national interest but basketball has had such an amazing growth in the past two years that it has taken first place.

No one can explain the stupen-dous development of basketball in the public fancy unless it is the re-sult of such perfect organization.

There must be at least five hun-dred conferences and leagues oper-ating on regular schedules in pro-fessional, amateur, intercollegiate, inter-scholastic, sectional and state circles.

There are ten major intercolle-giate conferences and perhaps one hundred state and sectional confer-ences and leagues. There are hun-dreds of athletic clubs and amateur teams enrolled in the National Am-ateur Athletic Union, and there are thousands of semi-pro teams and professional teams that are not in organized classifications.

When it is related that the Buffalo Germans, one of the greatest teams that ever shot at a basket had to be disbanded three years ago be-cause of a lack of interest, the growth of interest as is indicated above is inconceivable.

Damon Runyon, one of the most experienced and most brilliant sport writers in the profession, claims that basketball is the most popular sport in the United States and that basketball fans are the most violent bugs that follow any sports.

Last winter, Runyon referred in his widely read column to the Pas-saic High School team as being a wonder team that hadn't lost a game in something like five or six years. Such a storm was aroused all over the country that Passaic received almost five hundred challenges and Runyon received a bag of letters in each mail telling him he was all wrong and that there were a thou-sand teams that could beat Passaic.

It is hardly possible that such a comment upon a baseball team, a football or hockey team, or upon a boxer would arouse such a deluge of protests. It must be, in view of these facts, that basketball is the ranking sport, at least of the indoor sports.

Hockey, of course, is a great sport. With polo it is perhaps the fastest and most thrilling of all the sports to watch. But hockey is con-fined to those sections where ice is easy of access and polo is only a rich man's game and a society sport.

Buick Continues its Leadership

For the seventh consecutive year Buick has first choice of space at the National Automobile Shows. This signal honor is awarded annually by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce to the manufacturer-member having the largest volume of business for the preceding twelve months.

In winning and in maintaining this enviable position year after year, Buick has demonstrated conclusively that the true value of any automo-bile is reflected in the consistency with which the public buys it.

Since the introduction of the 1925 Buick models, public patronage has increased to an even greater degree—

A tribute to the Buick engineering skill and manufacturing ability that have provided newer and better Buick cars without departing in any way from the fundamentals of power, economy and dependability for which all Buicks have been famous.

The bride's sister, Miss Marie Rowe acted as bridesmaid and she wore a yellow crepe de chene and carried a bouquet of roses. The young couple will reside in Connersville where the bridegroom is employed.

A tea and bazaar will be given by Mrs. John Bowles at her home in Mays Saturday afternoon, Nov. 29. Everyone is cordially invited.

COMMENT ON FASHION FREAKS APPEARING ON FIFTH AVENUE

By Hedda Hoyt
(Written for United Press)
New York, N. Y. Nov. 19—There is a type of woman in every town whom other women refer to as "upstarts." They are startlingly dressed creatures who originate their own styles and go the fashion artists of the world one better. Certainly they cannot be called chic, but it cannot be denied that they obtain startling effects.

A fine day on Fifth Avenue brought out numbers of these fair would-be style leaders. Messenger boys follow behind them, grinning from ear to ear, women nudge each other, men snicker and say something smart, but unoriginal about "fool" women. Here are a few of the style atrocities encountered in one afternoon:

At 42nd street and Fifth Avenue a young woman wore a purple frock with shoes and stockings to match. She was a picture in purple with no relief. Her frock was a simple tunic model of duvetyne and followed the model in line and color. Purple is popular this season, tunics are the vogue and short hems the newest word from Paris. Her hat was one of the wide brimmed affairs cut short in back and was made of the popular fushia toned purple velvet. Her shoes spoke the latest word—colored satin for street wear. But it is safe to say that no fashion writer offered purple as a satin shoe color for street wear! Stockings to match these shoes is a new note. Purple put it on the blink, however. By combining certain style elements in a disastrous color tone one becomes a laughing stock.

Another miss wore a tan cloth frock with a circular flare at the hem. She also chose the Parisian short skirt and as she walked one could catch glimpses of her shapely knees. But—to be correct, the very short skirt must be a slender one. Full, circular hems if cut too short make one look like a child at the gaukey age. Her small hat was of tan felt and was cut so short in back that the newest bob—the V-shaped hair-line at the nape of the neck—looked grotesque, for it formed a long, black wisp on her neck. Her handbag was one of the popular enormous sizes and as she was a small girl in an almost knee-length dress, the bag extending beyond the hemline—seemed like a young suitcase.

An elderly lady with bobbed hair had chosen the hair-do that looks as though the hair were pasted over the cheeks at the sides. Two gray wisps of hair were brilliantined and held flatly over her withered cheeks. How much better that style looks on a young girl! Her shoes were the latest lizard-skin and leather combination of the smart sports type and her short jacquette of leopard skin trimmed with a collar of black monkey fur would have been lovely on a younger person. Pinned on her fur collar was the season's latest whim, the little spray of flowers. Hers were red carnations and, error of errors, her hosiery matched those red carnations! We bow our head in shame as we recall the line "let your hosiery match in color some accessory."

Then came the woman who thought she'd show Fifth Avenue something about waistlines. She was probably some sweet little married woman who cooks her own meals and launders her own underwear, walks to save carfare, etc., but she certainly was out to show the rest of us fair sisters up! Her figure was slender as a reed. And she knew it. Her little black satin frock was seant to the hem and tied just under the armpits was a narrow string belt which would make the Empire waistline ashamed of itself. Two long sash ends hung to the hem of her skirt in front. Her black poke bonnet was as demure as a Puritan's. And—she wore no sleeves or gloves but carried one of those wee little monkey fur muffs which is referred to in Parisian fashion notes. On her satin pumps she wore her monogram in brilliant. Both pumps bore the letter "M". Let's hope her name was Mary! She created quite a stir, at least.

charges. By inference their testimony was that "Hawkins did it," but District Attorney Homer Elliott shattered their defense on cross examination.

The rapid cross-fire of questions which Elliott shot at Scheib and Anderson and their replies induced other defendants in the conspiracy case to relinquish their plans to testify in their own behalf. The district attorney sought by his entire line of questioning to show the relationship between Hawkins and Scheib and Anderson.

Shortly before placing Scheib and Anderson on the stand to tell their version of the charges, defense attorneys sought to take the case from the jury on the ground that the government had not made its case against any of the defendants. This motion was overruled by Judge Geiger, however, who held that conspiracy had been proven and it remained for the jury to determine who was guilty.

Defendants on whose behalf the motion was made by defense attorneys were the Rev. William Webb and William H. Sacks, both of St. Louis; Frank B. Jaqua of Portland, former general counsel for the company; Harry J. Boyard, John A. Clark and Suecop all of Pittsburgh, Pa.; Anthony Scheib and A. R. Sax of New York, former sales manager of the Hawkins Co.

Defense attorneys continued their efforts today to tear down the case the government had built up around the Hawkins company. The government closed its evidence Tuesday after introducing seventy-one witnesses whose testimony was intended to show how Hawkins and his associates had defrauded thousands of

THE tendency to wear smart collar effects with evening gowns is illustrated in this photograph. It adds chic and charm to this interestingly cut gown of green crepe with the corsage of flowers in shades of deep red and gold. It fastens on one side with a scarf hanging down the back, and is fastened with a small bouquet of flowers like those on the corsage.

At the close of this discussion slips of paper were given out on which to write questions, which will be answered Friday night. The subject tonight will be "The Downward Pull," Matt. 7: 24-27. There will also be a chicken supper served in the hall beginning at five o'clock.

Vital Facts For Women

Sooner or later almost every woman is brought face to face with the fact that she is a victim of some weakness or ailment peculiar to her sex. It may be the young woman suffering from pain or irregularities, a mother who has brought on some weakness or displacement from overwork, or the middle aged woman passing through the most critical period of her life. For each of these trying periods Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has proved the greatest boon ever given to women, and there are women living in every town and city in the country who testify to its value.

Plugged Quarters and Over-Ripe Bananas

It has always interested us strangely that if you take a cent's worth of silver out of a quarter it is not worth twenty-four cents — it is worth nothing. Yet we fail in our daily lives to apply the lesson. Perhaps you, too have bought over-ripe bananas because they were cheap (only to throw them away); stockings with slight imperfections (which became a yawning gap over night); a bargain in books (you never read); and a dark gray suit when you wanted a navy blue (and which you never wore out).

It is easy enough to buy what you don't want very, very cheap.

There are always lots of sales on gray dresses when everyone wants blue; or cotton hose when you want silk; or straw hats when you want felt.

This store stands out as one that supplies what people want, when they want it, just as they want it, with good substantial values for every dollar spent. We can truly say that our business is built on values and is growing on values.

SUICIDE THEORY IS ABANDONED

Convinced Mrs. Sheatsley was Murdered and Body Burned, Officials Continue Investigation

HUSBAND HAD GOOD ALIBI

Definitely Shown her Body was Placed in Furnace Fire Box During His Absence

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 19.—The suicide theory was practically abandoned in the Sheatsley furnace mystery today.

Convinced that Rev. Sheatsley's wife was murdered and her body stuffed in the coals of the parsonage furnace, police and Prosecutor John R. King continued their investigation.

King was careful to point out that he now believes a solution to the mystery lies outside the pastor's family. Rev. Sheatsley and his four children have furnished acceptable alibis showing that Mrs. Sheatsley's body was placed in the furnace during their absence, King said.

In an attempt to find some clue in substantiation of this theory, King today was to question again E. D. Brideweser, a student at Capital University, where the pastor has a Bible class, and C. O. Strader, delivery man for a Columbus baker. The student knocked at the pastor's home Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock, the approximate time authorities believe Mrs. Sheatsley was put in the fire box. He received no response but said he heard some one at the furnace in the basement. Strader delivered a loaf of bread at the back door at 2:15, received no answer to his knock and placed the bread inside the door on the kitchen floor. Strader said he did not notice the odor of burning flesh which permeated the neighborhood between 3 and 3:30 p. m.

"It is our hope," said King, "that Brideweser or Strader may have seen some one in the vicinity of the parsonage."

The Sheatsley family was excused from all questioning today to attend Mrs. Sheatsley's funeral which was to be held at 2 p. m., from the fashionable Bextley Lutheran church of which her husband is pastor. The two boys, Milton, 20, and Clarence, 16, may be recalled later, authorities said.

Make Two Years Research

Two young men, Al and Ray Rockett, both of them under thirty, are today probably better informed on the life of Lincoln and the history of Civil War days than any historian in the country. Their thorough knowledge on the subject is the result of two years' research spent in preparing for the photoplay, "Abraham Lincoln," which they recently produced. "Abraham Lincoln" is being shown at the Princess theatre.

According to the Rocketts, there was so much that was dramatic and interesting in the life of Lincoln that the great problem of the scenario writer, Frances Marion, was to select the best material. Not only was Lincoln's public life admirably suited for screen adaption, but the story of his first romance with Anne Rutledge and his courtship of the girl he later married are far more interesting than most romances of fiction.

The majority of the research work which was necessary before "Abraham Lincoln" could be filmed was done in the Congressional Library in Washington, D. C. In addition to reading hundreds of books and historical documents, the youthful producers visited Illinois, the scene of Lincoln's boyhood, and became acquainted with the few surviving friends of the martyred President. In this way the most minute details of the life of Lincoln were clear in their minds before the gigantic task of filming the picture was started.

George Billings plays the title role, giving an impersonation of Lincoln that has been called the most remarkable piece of screen realism ever seen. Ruth Clifford is seen as Anne Rutledge.

COUNCIL HINTS AT A POLICE SHAKE UP

Chairman of Committee Reports That Members of Force are Not Showing Right Spirit

CO-OPERATION IS LACKING

Matter Will be Discussed More Fully at Special Session—New Water Well a Fizzle

The police department of Rushville came into the limelight at the regular session of the city council Tuesday night, when a threatened shake-up was predicted, and Mayor Thomas stated that he was willing to "clean the shelf from top to bottom."

The matter of the police was brought before the council when Mayor Thomas made a few suggestions for the police committee to have the police follow, and Homer Cole, chairman of the committee, stated that the police department was not showing the right attitude or spirit, and that there was friction existing between the members.

The greatest difficulty is that the department is not organized and no system is followed, many have observed. A report is never made to the council on the activities of the police force, and officers on duty in the day time, were said by Mr. Cole as not co-operating with the night force, and in a like manner, what takes place at night is not disclosed to the day force, he said.

Mayor Thomas indicated that he believed it time to start all over again on the department, and the police question will come up for discussion at a special meeting in the near future, when it was indicated that an entire new force would be employed, and if necessary, Mr. Cole expressed the desire to go outside and employ men who would be willing to carry out the orders of the committee.

The police question has been the subject for several council discussions, but it is believed that no solution of the problem can be found until an officer can be placed on desk duty with full power to direct the members of the department.

The preliminary assessment roles for Morgan and Fifth streets, which were paved during the summer, were presented to the council, and the lists will be advertised. Anyone wishing to remonstrate against their assessments will have the opportunity on December 2.

An opinion of U. S. Lesh, attorney general, was read in which he had been asked concerning the franchise with the T. & C. traction company. The question brought up was whether the traction company could be forced to pay for a portion of the street paving on Morgan street, and the opinion of the attorney general was the same as that expressed by Mr. Kiplinger, city attorney, in that

Mr. and Mrs. Wash Allen and Mrs. Kennard Allen Uninjured in Accident West of New Palestine

MACHINE IS BADLY DAMAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Wash Allen and Mrs. Kennard Allen escaped with slight bruises when their automobile was crowded off the state road just west of New Palestine Tuesday evening about 4:30 o'clock.

The automobile went over a steep embankment and two wheels and the front axle of the machine were broken. The occupants were considerably shaken up, but those who saw the position in which the automobile rested marveled at the fact that they were not seriously hurt. Mrs. Kennard Allen was driving.

The road is very narrow at the point where the Rushville machine met a large truck and there is a steep embankment on either side.

The Rushville people were returning from Indianapolis and the truck was going west.

The damaged automobile, an Oakland sedan, was pulled out of the ditch by a New Palestine garageman and today was brought to Rushville for repairs.

Phelps of Newcastle, Col. Chas. L. Keifner of Terre Haute, Col. Adolph Biecard of Indianapolis and Maj. Carl R. Mitchell of Indianapolis.

ALL CLASSES TO BE IN OPERATION

Kindergarten, Grades and High School Will be Open Tonight Commencing at 7 O'clock

NO SCHOOL THIS AFTERNOON

Regular Class Work Will be Carried Out Tonight as Part of Education Week Program

Evening session of the Rushville public schools will be held this evening, beginning at 7:00. The senior high school, the junior high school and all of the grade schools, including the kindergarten, will be in session.

The classes will be conducted as regularly scheduled on some portion of the daily program. An effort will be made to demonstrate the work of the school as it progresses each day under normal school room conditions.

The purpose of the evening session to give all parents a chance to visit the schools, to meet the teachers and to see the character of the work that their children are doing.

Careful arrangements have been made for the reception and accommodation of the visitors. Children have been appointed as ushers to pass out the schedules of classes and to conduct the guests to the particular classes that they may wish to visit.

"Night sessions have been held in many cities with marked success," said H. B. Allman, superintendent of schools today. "The responses have been enthusiastic and the effect upon the school beneficial. Not only is it of value to the parent to visit the school and become familiar with its work, but the students and teachers are helped by the contact with the public. You owe it to your child to visit the school and manifest a vital concern in the progress he is making."

The buildings will be open at 6:45 and the sessions will begin promptly at 7:00.

The observance of the week was carried to several of the school communities today in the county, with Dean Walker of the Rushville high school faculty speaking at Raleigh this afternoon and Grant Cooper of New Salem at Neff's Corner. Tonight A. L. Gary will speak at the Jackson township school, B. D. Farthing at Gings and Dr. Ramsey at Manilla.

On Thursday night, Judge Sparks will speak at Arlington, Prof. Noble Sherwood, state superintendent-elect, will speak at Carthage, and in the afternoon at Milroy. The Rev. Charles Brown of Laurel will be the speaker at the Richland school at night, and H. B. Allman of this city will be the Glenwood speaker at night. The Rev. James Wilson of Mays will speak at Mays Thursday night.

The program for the rural schools will end Friday afternoon, with Normal Patterson speaking at the Gahmmer school, Prof. L. A. Lockwood at the colored school in Carthage and B. D. Farthing at the Freeman school.

Tuesday night John A. Titworth of this city spoke at the Little Flat-rock church on, "Patriotism of Peace," as Tuesday was Patriotic day of the education week program. At the meeting there was also a demonstration of music work in charge of Miss Piersol, and given by the pupils of the Applegate and New Salem schools. The church auditor-

"STOP" SIGNS TO BE PAINTED ON STREETS

Mayor Thomas Announces Steps will be Taken to Protect Motorists at Busy Corners

STOP-GO SIGN CONSIDERED

Rushville motorists today were warned by Mayor Walter Thomas to keep their eyes open. Several "stop" signs are to be painted either late today or Thursday on some of the streets, giving the main travelled streets the right-of-way.

The stop signs have been ordered at Morgan and Third streets, with the stop signs to be painted on Morgan street, giving the east and west traffic the right-of-way. Similar signs will be painted on the streets at Fifth, upon entering Main, and also at Eleventh street, upon entering Main. It will be necessary for all machines to come to a dead stop before entering upon, or crossing the streets that are given the right-of-way.

An automatic "go" and "stop" sign policeman is under consideration for Main and Second streets, to replace the upper portion of the traffic post now in use.

Other "stop" signs will be placed on streets as soon as the needs arise and persons violating the stop signs will be arraigned before the mayor for traffic violations, according to police instructions.

MASONSHOLD OYSTERSUPPER

Judge W. M. Sparks and E. B. Thomas Speaks to Milroy Lodgemen

The members and guests of the Masonic lodge of Milroy enjoyed an oyster supper Tuesday night in the lodge rooms at Milroy, and following the banquet a program was rendered, consisting of music and talks.

Judge Will Sparks of this city and E. B. Thomas of San Juan, Porto Rico, who is visiting among home folks here, were among the principal speakers, and each made fine talks. Among the entertainers were Loyd Nelson, Harlan Overleese and Ned Jackson, singers, and several other Milroy members were on the program during the evening. Glen E. Foster of this city, also was present as a guest.

ON ROAD TO RECOVERY

Mrs. Anna Stevens of this city, who recently underwent an operation at the Robert Long hospital in Indianapolis, is reported to be recovering as well as could be expected.

LOCAL MAN TO AID HOME SERVICE FUND IN STATE SURVEY

John H. Kiplinger One of Committee of Three Selected by Governor—Elect Jackson

THRIFT, EFFICIENCY AIMS

To Make Investigation of Boards and Commissions, With View of Reducing Their Number

John H. Kiplinger of this city has been appointed a member of the committee of three, selected by Governor-elect Ed Jackson, to make a survey of state boards and commissions, with a view to submitting recommendations for reduction of the number of departments in the state house.

Other members of the committee are Arthur E. Baxter of Indianapolis, manufacturer and former state senator, and Lawrence Cartwright of Portland, vice-chairman of the regular state committee.

Mr. Kiplinger was called to Indianapolis Tuesday by the governor-elect for a conference regarding the appointment, and he accepted the post at that time.

Mr. Kiplinger, it is announced, will act as legal advisor of the committee. He has been engaged in the practice of law in Rushville for a number of years. In 1917 he organized a company of state militia and was its captain, and following the war, he served with the inter-allied commission supervising the return of war loot from Germany, and wrote some of the protocols carrying out the terms of the Versailles treaty.

Mr. Kiplinger also was legal advisor of the finance committee of the reparations commission.

The governor-elect announced, according to Indianapolis dispatches today, that the committee will be assisted by Pliny Wolfard, who has been named secretary to the Governor-elect; Frederick E. Schortemeier, secretary to Governor Branch, and secretary of state-elect, and Charles Kettleborough, director of the legislative reference bureau.

The committee will meet Friday afternoon to organize, Mr. Jackson said. The work of investigating the state boards and commissions will be pushed as rapidly as possible in order that a thorough report may be submitted to Mr. Jackson.

HOME SERVICE FUND IS RAISED TO $965.44

This Sum Raised in Salvation Army Campaign Recently Conducted—Detailed Report Impossible

BETTER THAN LAST FEW YEARS

The Salvation Army Home Service campaign conducted recently in Rushville yielded $965.44 according to a report today from Robert A. Innis, the campaign chairman.

A detailed report, showing where the money was raised, could not be made by Mr. Innis, who was confined to his home by illness at the close of the campaign. Deposits were made to the Home Service fund at the American National bank, with no record being made of who the solicitor was.

The campaign was the most thorough and the most successful of any that have been conducted in the interest of the Salvation Army here since 1919, when the Home Service fund was first established as a means of supporting the Army corps, instead of compelling the officers to depend upon free-will offerings.

The campaign was for the sum of approximately $2,000, to cover a period of eighteen months ending in October 1925, and the fact that practically half of the amount was raised means that the Army will be in a better position to give service to the community than it has had in the past few years.

GUARANTORS MEET NOV. 20

Will Elect Three Directors of Rush County Chautauqua

The guarantors of the Rush County Chautauqua association will hold a meeting in the director's room of the Farmers Trust Company Thursday evening, Nov. 20, at 7:30 o'clock. All the guarantors are urged to be present as three directors will be elected at this time.

This meeting is preliminary to the election of officers for the 1925 chautauqua. A meeting of the board of directors will be called for that purpose later, following the one on Thursday night of this week.

FOR ATTACHMENT

J. C. Ellman and Son filed suit in Justice Stech's court on an account and for attachment against Lowell Smalley, and the case was dismissed today, when the defendant paid the demand of $15 and costs in the case.

VICTIMS ARE RECOVERING

Mrs. Fred Danielson Will be in Hospital for Ten Days

Victims of the automobile accident three miles west of Rushville Tuesday were reported to be on the road to recovery today, although Mrs. Fred A. Danielson, who was most seriously injured, will be compelled to remain at the Sexton hospital for ten days. She sustained a broken leg and slight but extensive burns.

Mr. Danielson, her husband, was much improved today. He suffered a superficial scalp wound, slight burns and an injury to his chest. Their son Earl, and Ray Dewire, the driver of the car, which turned up and burned up, were not hurt aside from a few minor bruises. The party was enroute from Chicago to Miami, Florida.

CONFERENCE SEEN AS A PROBABILITY

Second Arm Confab Regarded as possible Due to British Attitude Toward League

NEW GOVERNMENT ACTION

Asks Definite Postponement of Discussion of League Conference and Protocol

By LUDWELL DENNY (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Nov. 19.—The second Washington arms conference proposed by President Coolidge has become a definite and early probability as result of the lack of sympathy with the League of Nations arms conference exhibited by the new conservative government of Great Britain, it was believed in authoritative quarters today.

The move of the British government to postpone indefinitely the discussion of the League Conference and the League protocol was accepted as a long step toward clearing the way for a second conference here.

It also was regarded as another step toward a more closely knit Anglo-American entente which would rival the League in assuming the moral leadership of international affairs.

By LLOYD ALLEN (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

London, Nov. 19.—"The Geneva protocol is scrapped," the Daily Telegraph declared today, following an announcement that the British government has asked the League of Nations to "postpone" discussion of the security and disarmament protocol adopted recently by the League assembly.

What the Baldwin government actually requested was that the council, when it meets at Rome December 8, leave the proposed pact off its agenda. The Daily Telegraph interprets this as an indication that the conservative administration will repudiate the protocol signed by Ramsey MacDonald.

The Daily Telegraph points out that if the Geneva protocol is scrapped the way is opened for American leadership in a new move for world disarmament. None of the other morning papers commented on the unexpected request which was conveyed to Sir Eric Drummond, secretary general of the League.

Dissatisfaction on the part of the dominions with provisions of the protocol prescribed use of the British fleet as a cure-all for international ills is believed one of the chief reasons for the government's request.

Corn Prices Set New Mark For Year in Wild Trading

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 19.—In one of the wildest markets this year corn prices soared to the highest level on the present crop during today's trading on the Chicago Board of Trade.

May and July corn sold over $1.25 a bushel at the peak, but those record prices resulted in heavy profit taking and prices slumped back slightly. Wheat and oats which advanced in line with corn suffered a set back and lost from opening levels.

OPERATED AMONG WIDOWS, OLD MEN

Hawkins Mortgage Company Used Special Inducements to Get This Class, Substance of Testimony

TREASURER ON THE STAND

Developed in Cross Examination That Company Appealed to Farmers Also—Circular Read

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 19.—That the Hawkins Mortgage Company, which is alleged to have swindled thousands of victims, operated chiefly among farmers, widows and old men, was the substance of testimony of Carl B. Anderson, treasurer of the Hawkins Company under cross examination in federal court today during trial of the mail fraud conspiracy case.

Anderson identified literature mailed by the Hawkins Company urging widows and old men to buy all the stock they could.

Homer Elliott, United States district attorney, read a paragraph from the circular: "We make a specialty to induce widows with small capital to invest and men well long in years that have the capital to purchase all the stock they could stand for we absolutely know there is no hazard connected with the investment and they will be sure of the income the rest of their lives and will leave valuable stock to their heirs."

Anderson testified that records of the director's meetings, which stated he was director of the Cooperative League of America at one time. He admitted he knew letters urging exchange of cooperative league stock for Hawkins Mortgage Company stock, were being mailed out.

During Anderson's testimony it was found that A. B. Sax, a defendant stock salesman, was not in the court room.

Judge Geiger ordered that he be brought in. Anderson was excused from the stand for about three minutes while Henry W. Kiel, mayor of St. Louis, testified that William Sax of St. Louis, millionaire, had born a good reputation. He gave similar testimony concerning Macey Wilson, chairman of the board of International Life Insurance Company of St. Louis, another defendant.

Destruction of the picture of injured innocence painted by two leading defendants in the mail fraud case caused other defendants to abandon their intentions today of showing how Morton S. Hawkins was the alleged grand conspirator and they were the "goats".

Anthony A. Scheib of Portland, Ind., vice-president, secretary and director of the Hawkins Mortgage Company, and Carl B. Anderson, of Portland, vice-president, treasurer and director of the company both insisted they were innocent of the

Jury will Not Be Used Until Friday When Rainey and Bennett Will be Tried

ON GRAND LARCENY CHARGE

The jury which was originally notified to report for service Thursday in the circuit court, for the first time in the new court term that convened Monday, will not be used until the Tuesday case that was set for Thursday was postponed.

The case Friday is another state case against Harry Rainey and Willie Bennett, charged with conspiracy and grand larceny, of which they have entered pleas of not guilty, and have been released on bond, awaiting trial.

The case that was set for Thursday was an assault and battery case filed against Everett Swain of Milroy by Tone Tompkins, also of Milroy, in which the action was appealed from Justice Stech's court, where the defendant was found guilty and fined. The case will be heard later in this term of court. In the place of this case for Thursday, there has been set a civil action, which will be heard by the court, and without the jury.

Let us Give Thanks:—Blessing and glory, and wisdom, and thanksgiving, and honor, and power, and might, be unto our God for ever and ever. Revelation 7:12.

Prayer:—All praise, O Lord, to Thee, we give for all the blessings of this life.

Home Interests First

Another Christmas is near at hand and gift lists are being prepared for the shopping tour that everyone will make.

And when you buy, will you remember the claims of the home merchant and give him a chance to share in your trade?

We can not expect to prosper as a community by dividing our patronage with business men who contribute nothing to the upbuilding of our local institutions.

It is to the best interest of those who buy, to trade at home, just as it is to the best interest of those who sell.

Unless we "pat each other on the back" nothing constructive can ever be accomplished and Rushville will go backward instead of forward.

The logic of trading at home is unassailable. There is no other way of reasoning—if you spend your money away from home, you have no hope of ever finding it in your pocket again, but if you keep your money in circulation at home, you may get the chance to use it again.

Rushville merchants prepare for Christmas with large and extensive stocks and endeavor to serve the people of this trading area as best they can. They should be patronized, not alone from the standpoint of home patriotism, but because they have Christmas merchandise of quality that no one will be ashamed to give.

An Outstanding Service

The case is reported in the press of a letter, written by a soldier during the Civil War, which was delivered a few days ago to a relative of the one to whom it was addressed.

Such instances are unusual. The postoffice department functions with great precision and provides splendid service for the people.

The circumstance which was given widespread publicity, because it was rare, might be contrasted with the thousands and thousands of cases where mail is delivered promptly.

The postoffice department is in receipt of frequent letters commending the mail service, but none quite equals the record which a Utah woman reports.

For ten years she has been maintaining a weekly correspondence with her sister in England, and up to August 1 of this year, each woman had written 520 letters to each other, not one of which had been lost.

This record reveals a state of perfection that is seldom reached and though it is uncommon, it indicates that the postal service is a very efficient branch of the government.

During the holiday season it is put to the supreme test and every one who can do anything to relieve the burden will be performing a worthwhile service. Mailing gifts early is one way in which every person can help.

Poor Thrift

The U. S. Treasury reports more than eighteen and a half millions of outstanding national debt that has matured and the interest on which has ceased. All but about one million of that total has matured since April 1, 1917. Most of the sum is represented by World War obligations of various kinds, principally Victory Notes.

By leaving that enormous amount of capital tied up in idle investment, its owners are losing a million dollars a year of interest that they might obtain if they redeemed their government securities and put their money into active enterprises. It is a poor conception of thrift that permits financial management of that sort.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO TODAY

From Daily Republican
Friday, Nov. 19, 1909

Dr. Frank Smith was taken to the Sexton sanitarium today to undergo an operation for gall and bladder trouble.

Clell Maple, county recorder, was elected treasurer of the Indiana County Recorders Association which met in the Claypool hotel in Indianapolis Wednesday. This comes as a very high honor as there were only four officers out of the whole number of recorders chosen.

Will the Rush county treasurer continue to collect the city taxes or will he not? That's what the finance committee of the city council and the county authorities tried to settle last night. But they didn't. Instead the thing is just about as far from settlement as it ever was.

Dr. George L. Mackintosh, president of the Wabash college, comes Sunday from Crawfordsville to deliver the address at the first of the series of Men's Big Meetings which will be held during the winter.

Mrs. Jane Bundy and Miss Pauline Bundy left Thursday morning for Long Beach, Calif., where they will make their future home. Mrs. Carl Morris accompanied them as far as Indianapolis. (Carthage correspondent).

Mrs. W. S. Saxon entertained to dinner Wednesday the Ladies Sorority club. The following ladies were present: Mrs. W. E. Ochiltree, Mrs. Will Masters, and Mrs. Stockton of Connersville, Mrs. Dr. Elliott, Mrs. Dr. Paxton and Miss Florence Elliott of Glenwood, Mrs. Grant Hinchman and Mrs. James Ochiltree of this neighborhood. A talk was given by Mrs. Stockton on her trip to Seattle, which was highly appreciated by the ladies. (In and Around Fairview correspondent).

George C. Wyatt was a music teacher once upon a time and later became an undertaker, and entered into the furniture business.

Dr. W. S. Coleman spent yesterday evening in Oxford, Ohio, with his sister, Miss Effie Coleman, who is an instructor in English in Miami University. He returned this morning.

Mrs. Ruby Petry and Mrs. Will S. Meredith spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. Sylvia Hodge south of Homer.

The Ladies Aid Society of St. Paul's M. E. church will give a reception tonight for the new pastor, the Rev. J. W. Turner and family.

Probably the most delightful society event of the fall was the dance given by the U. G. I. Go club in the Modern Woodman hall last evening.

HUNT'S DAILY LETTER

BY HARRY B. HUNT

NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—Chicago's right to the title of "The Windy City" may have a new explanation when the new Congress is organized. If Martin B. Madden the white-haired legislator from the Illinois metropolis wins his fight for the speakership of the House, which is to be voted by the promotion of Fredrick Gillett to the Senate.

With Charles Dawes presiding over the deliberations of the Senate and Madden wielding the gavel on the House, Chicago certainly would be sitting astride Congress.

THERE will have to be a deal of maneuvering however before this is accomplished. Al ready Madden is assured of two rivals for the seat at the head of the House.

Nick Longworth of Cincinnati, as told as Madden is gray would like to succeed Gillett. Like Madden, Nick has served 20 years in the House and would like to be promoted.

As floor leader of the Republican new majority in the present Congress Nick has proved himself a clever tactician in legislative maneuvering. And that is one of the essential qualifications for a speaker.

As an initiator of new legislation and as an advocate of measures on the floor of the House, Madden has been much more active and influential than Longworth.

Nick isn't an orator and knows it. His most effective speeches are made in cloak rooms and in quiet conferences.

No sooner had the Madden Longworth forces begun to line up however than that veteran legislator from Cuyahoga county (this Theodore E. Burton) intimated that he was being sought by many members to step into the speakership ring and make it a three-sided fight.

In addition to having served in the House as long as either Madden or Longworth, Burton has behind him a record of six years in the Senate.

There is a suggestion that the 73-year-old bachelor from Cleveland has the sanction of President Coolidge in his announced aspiration to the speakership, though of course the executive will use no direct pressure in trying to get the seat in the House a man at his choice.

This Burton was the Coolidge choice for keynote speaker at the Cleveland convention last June. However, he is regarded as indicating the way the presidential favor lies.

BEHIND the scenes in this speakership fight however, a woman may play the deciding role.

The political ability and influence of Mrs. Longworth—formerly Alice Roosevelt—is brought to bear in behalf of her husband's candidacy for the speakership.

"Princess Alice," as she is still known to her intimates, is credited with having one of the cleverest political minds the capital ever knew and with knowing just how to "put across" the campaigns in which she is interested.

If she chooses to be "Mrs. Speaker" and to see Nick's bid come shining above the dome of the speaker's platform, her friends are willing to wager that she will be in and Nick will be there.

THESE same folks, however, question whether Mrs. Longworth is especially anxious for hubby to win the speakership.

The wife of the speaker is at once expected to follow a certain rather cut and dried social schedule. And "Princess Alice," who has always been something of a social "rebel," might not care to conform to what precedent has established as the proper thing for the speaker's wife to do.

This social independence, which may be passed unnoticed in the wife of a mere member of the House, might, however, create a real ruction in Washington drawing rooms if held by the wife of the speaker.

Little Known of Strength of Team.

BAND OF ROOTERS TO BE HERE

The Rushville high school basketball team will meet their old time rivals here Friday night, when the fast team from the Spiceland high school will come here for a game.

In the past few years these two teams have always had lively times, and Spiceland usually has a team that makes any of them step. Little is known of this year, excepting last Friday when Carthage played them, and won by a lone point, having to force themselves in a rally in the last few minutes to overcome a big lead. Carthage also is ranked as a strong team this year, and a contender for county honors.

The Spiceland players will be accompanied by a large crowd, as they always have brought many rooters with them.

The Rushville second team will play the preliminary contest, starting at 7:30 o'clock, and their opponents will be the Orange high school.

ALONG THE SIDELINES

Chicago—Five University of Chicago regulars expect to end their college playing career Saturday by winning a western conference football championship. They are Gowdy, Thomas, Pondelik, Barnes and Bar-to.

Evanston — Northwestern's first team smashed up Notre Dame plays used by the freshmen in a strenuous scrimmage. Coach Thistlewaite hopes to have his team keyed up to give the Irish a hard battle.

Urbana—Working hard to stage a comeback, the Blini worked earnestly and long last night. Zupke will use his old lineup, in the main against Ohio Saturday. Big changes will be Britton at guard and Green at Grange's half.

Madison—Wisconsin worked out on a sloppy field but indulged in strenuous drill. The slogan is "stop McCarty" and Coach Ryan is bolstering the line for this purpose. Harris and Nelson will be the tacklers.

Columbus—Scrimmage was light and short for the Buckeyes yesterday because of the weather. Warner weather today, however, assured hard scrimmage in preparation for Illinois.

Bloomington—Indiana worked out for the edification of the students today. All other practices of the week in preparation for the Purdue battle are set. New plays to be used against the Boilermakers were rehearsed.

South Bend—Bumps and bruises suffered in the Nebraska game necessitated a practice recess last night for Notre Dame. Reserves went through a light workout indoors while the regulars were recuperating.

Ann Arbor—Passing drill was emphasized in Wolverine drill yesterday, in deciding that Michigan plans to gain on Iowa whether it can pierce the Hawkeye forward wall or not. Friedman and Rockwell are the hurriers.

Minneapolis—With Lidberg missing, the Gophers started strenuous drill last night for Vanderbilt. Len Frank gave out instructions on how the team should play to beat the deceiving backfield formations of the invaders.

Lafayette—Secret drill for the first time during the season was held by Coach Phelan for the Boilermakers last night. Special formations which will be used against Indiana were practiced.

Iowa City—Coach Ingwersen centered his efforts in speeding up the lagard Iowa interference during a long scrimmage last night. It was probably the last scrimmage of the season and lasted until dark. A new attack is being perfected for Michigan.

Cambridge—Harvard was cheered by announcement that Gamache, star end on the varsity, would be able to start against Yale next Saturday. The regulars were given another day of rest and probably will get their first practice of the week today.

New Haven—Coach Tad Jones stuck to his plan of no scrimmage for the varsity before the Harvard game and sent the regulars through a signal drill with a short session at dummy football.

Annapolis—The varsity went through a long scrimmage with squad B, devoting most of its time to plays, lending weight to the belief in forward pass formations and the Navy will count heavily on their aerial attack against the Army November 29.

The Ladies of the St. Paul's M. E. church will give a bazaar and lunch in the basement of the church, December 5.

the franchise held the traction company not liable for any assessment.

The new water well drilled on the King farm southeast of Rushville, is not measuring up to the expectations. The fine new electric pump works perfectly, but the water supply in the well has diminished since it was first tested, and something will have to be done in order to increase the water supply for the city.

The break in the water main near the Baptist church under the new Morgan street paving, can not be located, according to A. T. Mahin, superintendent. The leak detector, a sensitive instrument used to locate water leaks under paving, fails to show an impulse of a leak and several attempts to find the break have failed. The water is seeping up in different spots near the church, and it was not believed good policy to tear up the street until the exact location of the break can be determined.

An ordinance placing a high license fee on peddlars, medicine shows and street sellers, with the purpose of preventing them from coming here, will be drafted and presented at the next meeting.

The fire committee was ordered to purchase a quantity of new fire hose which is usually bought in 400 foot quantities twice a year. The committee also was ordered to purchase new bed linen for the firemen's headquarters. The matter of repairing the swinging doors at the fire station, making them winter proof, was taken up, and an estimate of the cost will be made, and further action will be taken on the matter.

The petition of several property owners and residents living near the stock pens of the C. I. & W. railroad asking for a clean-up at the pens, was presented at the last council meeting and the petition was ordered sent to the railroad so they could take some kind of action.

The city treasurer, Earl Conway, also reported that the city received its full installment of taxes on Monday from Phil Wilk, county auditor, and the amount was nearly $30,000, from which all outstanding debts were paid by the city last night.

An adjourned session to discuss the police, Hodges Branch improvement, water wells and other matters will be held in a few days, to complete the unfinished business of last night.

a business man and manufacturer. Mr. Cartwright is vice chairman of the Republican state committee and party chairman of the Eighth district. He has been active in the work of the state committee for several years. He has displayed much interest in public affairs.

Mr. Jackson said that Dr. Carlton McCulloch, defeated Democratic candidate for Governor, was unable to serve on the committee. Mr. Jackson offered Dr. McCulloch a place on the committee some time ago. Dr. McCulloch informed Mr. Jackson that all the time he can devote to public affairs is being given to the Riley hospital. Dr. McCulloch, however, offered to assist the committee in any way in his power.

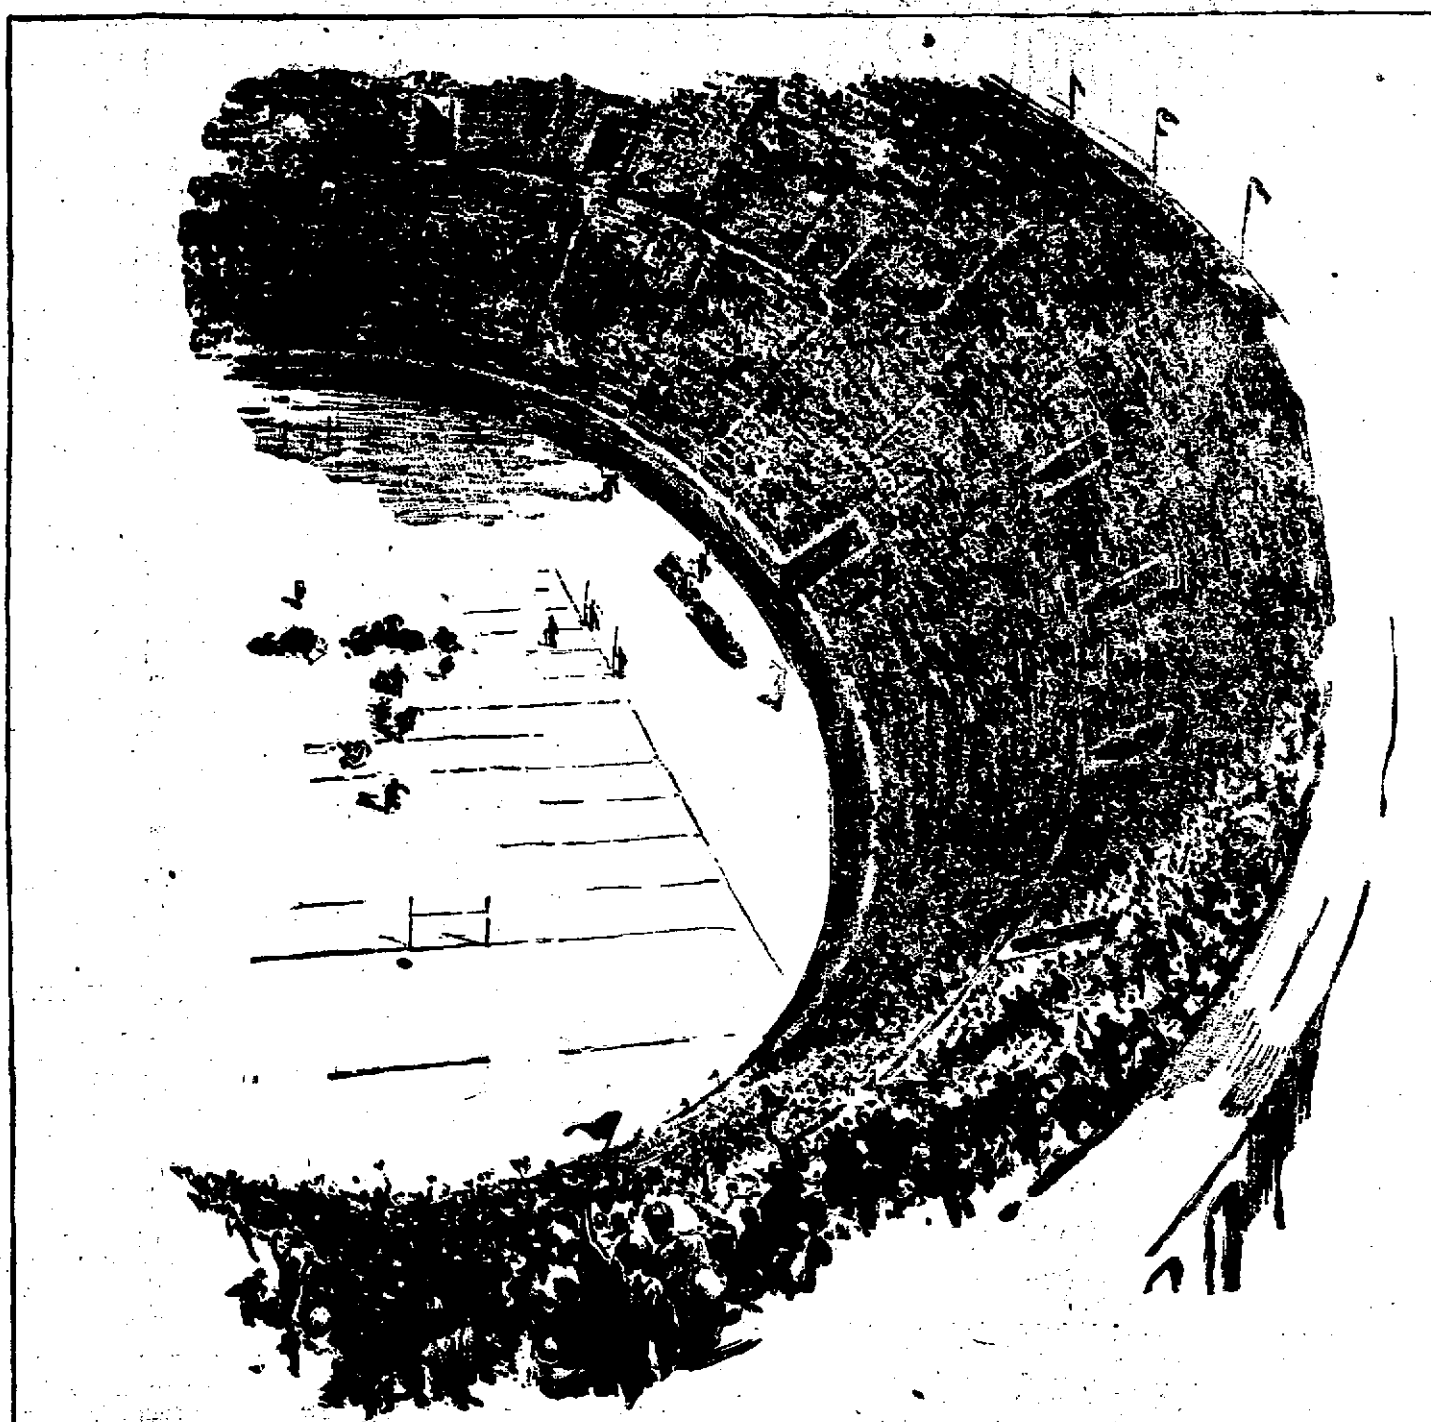

In appointing the committee, Mr. Jackson is taking the first step toward carrying out his campaign pledge to abolish useless state boards and commissions and to consolidate any departments which may be united without impairing the efficiency of the state government. The committee will submit a report to Mr. Jackson which probably will form the basis of some of the recommendations of the Governor-elect in his message to the approaching session of the General Assembly.

Mr. Jackson said the committee will welcome suggestions from any citizen interested in the work of the state government. The investigation is to be conducted along the most sweeping lines in order that every possible angle of reducing state expenditures by eliminating useless departments may be considered.

In the services of the officials named to act in an advisory capacity the committee will have the benefit of assistance of men who have had much experience in state affairs. Mr. Wolfard has been deputy secretary of state for a number of years. Mr. Schortemeier is familiar with the operation of the state government on account of his service as secretary to the Governor. Mr. Kettleborough has drafted much of the legislation which has been approved by the General Assembly in recent years.

Basketball in Public Favor

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, Nov. 19—With football to be buried soon for the 1924 season, the indoor winter sport season will swing in for the public entertainment until the baseball clubs drift southward in the spring.

Basketball, boxing and hockey are the ranking winter sports now in the order named. Several years ago boxing would have held the major place in the national interest but basketball has had such an amazing growth in the past two years that it has taken first place.

No one can explain the stupendous development of basketball in the public fancy unless it is the result of such perfect organization.

There must be at least five hundred conferences and leagues operating on regular schedules in professional, amateur, intercollegiate, inter-scholastic, sectional and state circles.

There are ten major intercollegiate conferences and perhaps one hundred state and sectional conferences and leagues. There are hundreds of athletic clubs and amateur teams enrolled in the National Amateur Athletic Union and there are thousands of semi-pro teams and professional teams that are not in organized classifications.

When it is related that the Buffalo Germans, one of the greatest teams that ever shot at a basket had to be disbanded three years ago because of a lack of interest, the growth of interest as is indicated above is inconceivable.

Damon Runyon, one of the most experienced and most brilliant sport writers in the profession, claims that basketball is the most popular sport in the United States and that basketball fans are the most violent bugs that follow any sports.

Last winter, Runyon referred in his widely read column to the Passaic High School team as being a wonder team that hadn't lost a game in something like five or six years. Such a storm was aroused all over the country that Passaic received almost five hundred challenges and Runyon received a bag of letters in each mail telling him he was all wrong and that there were a thousand teams that could beat Passaic.

It is hardly possible that such a comment upon a baseball team, a football or hockey team, or upon a boxer would arouse such a deluge of protests. It must be, in view of these facts, that basketball is the ranking sport, at least of the indoor sports.

Hockey, of course, is a great sport. With polo it is perhaps the fastest and most thrilling of all the sports to watch. But hockey is confined to those sections where ice is easy of access and polo is only a rich man's game and a society sport.

Buick Continues its Leadership

For the seventh consecutive year Buick has first choice of space at the National Automobile Shows. This signal honor is awarded annually by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce to the manufacturer-member having the largest volume of business for the preceding twelve months.

In winning and in maintaining this enviable position year after year, Buick has demonstrated conclusively that the true value of any automobile is reflected in the consistency with which the public buys it.

Since the introduction of the 1925 Buick models, public patronage has increased to an even greater degree.

A tribute to the Buick engineering skill and manufacturing ability that have provided newer and better Buick cars without departing in any way from the fundamentals of power, economy and dependability for which all Buicks have been famous.

COMMENT ON FASHION FREAKS APPEARING ON FIFTH AVENUE

By Hedda Hoyt
(Written for United Press)
New York, N. Y., Nov. 19.—There is a type of woman in every town whom other women refer to as "upstarts." They are startlingly dressed creatures who originate their own styles and go the fashion artists of the world one better. Certainly they cannot be called chic, but it cannot be denied that they obtain startling effects.

A fine day on Fifth Avenue brought out numbers of these fair would-be style leaders. Messenger boys follow behind them, grinning from ear to ear, women judge each other, men snicker and say something smart, but unoriginal about "fool" women. Here are a few of the style atrocities encountered in one afternoon:

At 42nd street and Fifth Avenue a young woman wore a purple frock with shoes and stockings to match. She was a picture in purple with no relief. Her frock was a simple tunic model of daytime and followed the model in time and color. Purple is popular this season, tunics are the vogue and short hems the newest word from Paris. Her hat was one of the wide brimmed affairs cut short in back and was made of the popular fushia toned purple velvet. Her shoes spoke the latest word—colored satin for street wear. But it is safe to say that no fashion writer offered purple as a satin shoe color for street wear! Stockings to match these shoes is a new note. Purple put it on the blink, however. By combining certain style elements in a disastrous color tone one becomes a laughing stock.

Another miss wore a tan cloth frock with a circular flare at the hem. She also chose the Parisian short skirt and as she walked one could catch glimpses of her shapely knees. But—to be correct, the very short skirt must be a slender one. Full, circular hems if cut too short make one look like a child at the gauzy age. Her small hat was of tan felt and was cut so short in back that the newest bob—the V-shaped hair-line at the nape of the neck—looked grotesque, for it formed a long, black wisp on her neck. Her handbag was one of the popular enormous sizes and as she was a small girl in an almost knee-length dress, the bag extending beyond the hemline—seemed like a young suitcase.

An elderly lady with bobbed hair had chosen the hair-do that looks as though the hair were pasted over the cheeks at the sides. Two gray wisps of hair were brilliantined and held flatly over her withered cheeks. How much better that style looks on a young girl! Her shoes were the latest lizard-skin and leather combination of the smart sports type and her short, jacquette of leopard skin trimmed with a collar of black monkey fur would have been lovely on a younger person. Pinned on her fur collar was the season's latest whim, the little spray of flowers. Hers were red carnations and, error of errors, her hosiery matched those red carnations! We bow our head in shame as we recall the line "let your hosiery match in color some accessory."

Then came the woman who thought she'd show Fifth Avenue something about waistslines. She was probably some sweet little married woman who cooks her own meals and launders her own underwear, walks to save carfare, etc., but she certainly was out to show the rest of us fair sisters up! Her figure was slender as a reed. And she knew it. Her little black satin frock was meant to the hem and tied just under the armpits was a narrow string belt which would make the Empire waistline ashamed of itself. Two long sash ends hung to the hem of her skirt in front. Her black poke bonnet was as demure as a Puritan's. And—she wore no sleeves, no gloves but carried one of those wee little monkey fur muffs which is referred to in Parisian fashion notes. On her satin pumps she wore her monogram in brilliant. Both pumps bore the letter "M". Let's hope her name was Mary! She created quite a stir, at least.

charges. By inference their testimony was that "Hawkins did it," but District Attorney Homer Elliott shattered their defense on cross examination.

The rapid cross-fire of questions which Elliott shot at Scheib and Anderson and their replies induced other defendants in the conspiracy case to relinquish their plans to testify in their own behalf. The district attorney sought by his entire line of questioning to show the relationship between Hawkins and Scheib and Anderson.

Shortly before placing Scheib and Anderson on the stand to tell their version of the charges, defense attorneys sought to take the case from the jury on the ground that the government had not made its case against any of the defendants. This motion was overruled by Judge Geiger, however, who held that conspiracy had been proven and it remained for the jury to determine who was guilty.

Defendants on whose behalf the motion was made by defense attorneys were the Rev. William Webb and William H. Sacks, both of St. Louis; Frank B. Jaqua of Portland, former general counsel for the company; Harry J. Bovard, John A. Clark and Suecor all of Pittsburgh, Pa.; Anthony Scheib and A. R. Sax of New York, former sales manager of the Hawkins Co.

Defense attorneys continued their efforts today to tear down the case the government had built up around the Hawkins company. The government closed its evidence Tuesday after introducing seventy-one witnesses whose testimony was intended to show how Hawkins and his associates had defrauded thousands of

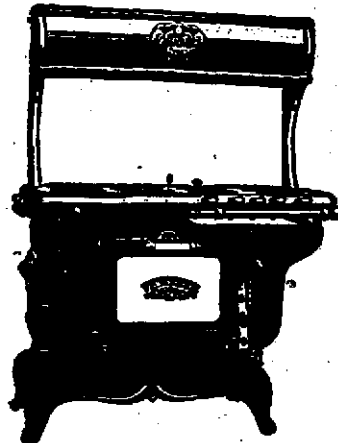

Collar Adds Chic, Charm

THE tendency to wear smart collar effects with evening gowns is illustrated in this photograph. It adds chic and charm to this interestingly cut gown of green crepe with the corsage of flowers in shades of deep red and gold. It fastens on one side with a scarf hanging down the back, and is fastened with a small bouquet of flowers like those on the corsage.

EPWORTH LEAGUE SERVICES

The Epworth League Services at the Wesley M. E. church Tuesday evening were very unique under the leadership of Mrs. Mary Adams. She gave a very interesting discussion on "What Lack I Yet," the scripture being taken from Philippians 3:12-14. At the close of this discussion slips of paper were given out on which to write questions, which will be answered Friday night. The subject tonight will be "The Downward Pull," Matt. 7: 24-27. There will also be a chicken supper served in the hall beginning at five o'clock.

ENTERTAINS HIGH SCHOOL

M. B. Mawhorter, Indiana composer, who has been playing the "Abraham Lincoln" picture at the Princess theatre this week, entertained the high school during a forty minute period this morning. He played descriptive music on the piano and displayed wonderful ability. Mr. Mawhorter also spoke of the tendencies in music and urged more young people to learn old-time music.

Vital Facts For Women

Sooner or later almost every woman is brought face to face with the fact that she is a victim of some weakness or ailment peculiar to her sex. It may be the young woman suffering from pain or irregularities, a mother who has brought on some weakness or displacement from overwork, or the middle aged woman passing through the most critical period of her life. For each of these trying periods Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has proved the greatest boon ever given to women, and there are women living in every town and city in the country who testify to its value.

Plugged Quarters and Over-Ripe Bananas

It has always interested us strangely that if you take a cent's worth of silver out of a quarter it is not worth twenty-four cents — it is worth nothing. Yet we fail in our daily lives to apply the lesson. Perhaps you, too have bought over-ripe bananas because they were cheap (only to throw them away); stockings with slight imperfections (which became a yawning gap over night); a bargain in books (you never read); and a dark gray suit when you wanted a navy blue (and which you never wore out).

It is easy enough to buy what you don't want very, very cheap.

There are always lots of sales on gray dresses when everyone wants blue; or cotton hose when you want silk; or straw hats when you want felt.

This store stands out as one that supplies what people want, when they want it, just as they want it, with good substantial values for every dollar spent. We can truly say that our business is built on values and is growing on values.

SUICIDE THEORY IS ABANDONED

Convinced Mrs. Sheatsley was Murdered and Body Burned, Officials Continue Investigation

HUSBAND HAD GOOD ALIBI

Definitely Shown her Body was Placed in Furnace Fire Box During His Absence

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 19—The suicide theory was practically abandoned in the Sheatsley furnace mystery today.

Convinced that Rev. Sheatsley's wife was murdered and her body stuffed in on the coals of the parsonage furnace, police and Prosecutor John R. King continued their investigation.

King was careful to point out that he now believes a solution to the mystery lies outside the pastor's family. Rev. Sheatsley and his four children have furnished acceptable alibis showing that Mrs. Sheatsley's body was placed in the furnace during their absence, King said.

In an attempt to find some clue in substantiation of this theory, King today was to question again E. D. Brideweser, a student at Capital University, where the pastor has a Bible class, and C. O. Strader, delivery man for a Columbus baker. The student knocked at the pastor's home Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock, the approximate time authorities believe Mrs. Sheatsley was put in the fire box. He received no response, but said he heard some one at the furnace in the basement. Strader delivered a loaf of bread at the back door at 2:15, received no answer to his knock and placed the bread inside the door on the kitchen floor. Strader said he did not notice the odor of burning flesh which permeated the neighborhood between 3 and 3:30 p. m.

"It is our hope," said King, "that Brideweser or Strader may have seen some one in the vicinity of the parsonage."

The Sheatsley family was excused from all questioning today to attend Mrs. Sheatsley's funeral which was to be held at 2 p. m. from the fashionable Bextley Lutheran church of which her husband is pastor. The two boys, Milton, 20, and Clarence, 16, may be recalled later, authorities said.

Well Again

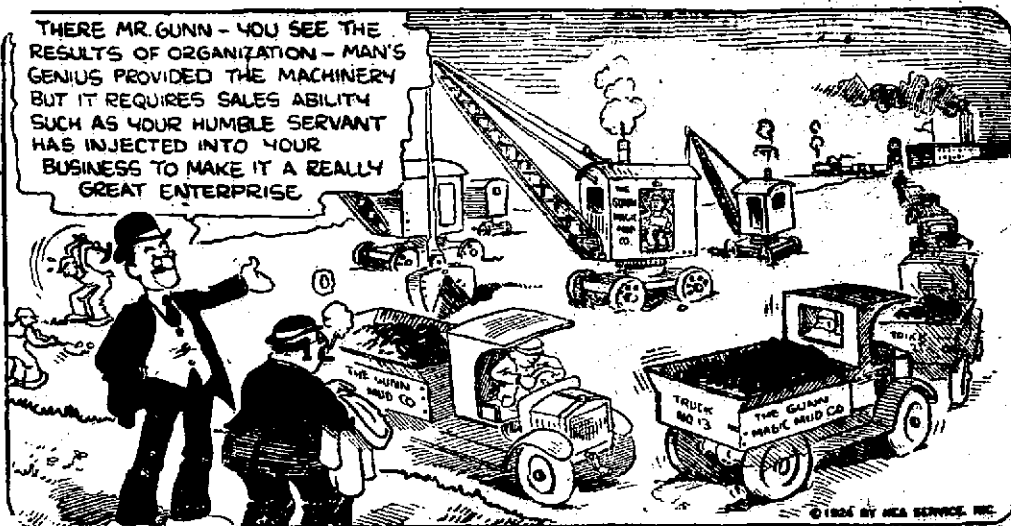

Eugene Debs, well and strong, is back home again in Indiana. For four months he has been in the north country recovering from an illness that attacked him six months ago. He has been taking "nature's cure," he says, "living like an Indian." He has finished a book on prison life that will be published next spring.

Make Two Years Research

Two young men, Al and Ray Rockett, both of them under thirty, are today probably better informed on the life of Lincoln and the history of Civil War days than any historian in the country. Their thorough knowledge on the subject is the result of two years' research spent in preparing for the photoplay, "Abraham Lincoln," which they recently produced. "Abraham Lincoln" is being shown at the Princess theatre.

According to the Rocketts, there was so much that was dramatic and interesting in the life of Lincoln that the great problem of the scenario writer, Frances Marion, was to select the best material. Not only was Lincoln's public life admirably suited for screen adaptation, but the story of his first romance with Anne Rutledge and his courtship of the girl he later married are far more interesting than most romances of fiction.

The majority of the research work which was necessary before "Abraham Lincoln" could be filmed was done in the Congressional Library in Washington, D. C. In addition to reading hundreds of books and historical documents, the youthful producers visited Illinois, the scene of Lincoln's boyhood, and became acquainted with the few surviving friends of the martyred President. In this way the most minute details of the life of Lincoln were clear in their minds before the gigantic task of filming the picture was started.

George Billings plays the title role, giving an impersonation of Lincoln that has been called the most remarkable piece of screen realism ever seen. Ruth Clifford is seen as Anne Rutledge.

Make Your Car Up-to-date

The majority of the factories are now finishing their new cars with Duco

YEARS AND BUMPS CANNOT HARM DUOCO AUTO FINISH

A finish that will last as long as your car does, has now been perfected by Duco chemists. Every motorist will be interested in Duco, the finish that resists all the elements, and whose lustre actually improves with age.

Duco Finish is made on an entirely new principle. It is so adhesive that it is difficult to mar. Running the car through a dry cloth actually scratches hardly affect it. Running the engine boiling hot will not blister it. Use, rubbing with a dry cloth actually improves the appearance of the finish. You can run a car finished with Duco through any kind of weather, it out all night in rain or sleet, without damage.

We are refinishing cars with Duco, doing the job in less than half the time required for an old-fashioned job. Come to our shop and let us do it. Let us prove to you that Duco actually surpasses the claims made for it. You won't be satisfied until you get Duco on your car.
